FOREWORD

At this very moment in our world history, when brutal and barbaric destructions are hourly occurrences, there are very few sure things on which we can fall back. Things like Saturday football in October, a hearth-fire on a January night, or an eight-thirty class on a Spring morning---these are truly American institutions. It is the editors' purpose to preserve in this volume such similar moments of our college days, the memories of which will come to life after all the madness and chaos has been put behind us.

DEDICATION

We dedicate the 1941 "Web" to Malcolm Ray Doubles. As Dean of the University of Richmond School of Law, he has been all that could be asked of any man: a loyal friend, a patient teacher, and a champion of right.

Richmond College Student Government

Activity of the progressive variety was in order this year for the Student Government under the capable direction of President Ed Garber.

EDGAR C. GARBER
President

The association started its session of 1940-41 by collaborating with the Westhampton leaders in sponsoring the annual Student Government dance held in the Co-ord gymnasium.

The Senate, an eight-man body, was particularly active this year. These energetics were Malcolm Pitt, Jr., Billy Grant, Joe Fortunato, Gordon ReMine, Ben McGehee, Aylett Goode, Warren Pace, and Roger Walke.

A progressive step was the institution of a uniform bookkeeping system for all the organization and Tommy Pugh's Committee made a study of the need of further appropriations for organizations financed by the Student Government.

The third or judiciary division of the Association, the Honor Council, was also active. The introduction of the Intermediate Rule was an impeccable work of this group.

Class of 1941

Richmond College

Well, we finally got here; and now that we did get this far, we wonder what it's all about. Our four years at college were pretty hectic ones, and quite unlike the history of any class in the past; and we think quite unlike any class history of the future. We started off being scared freshmen; but it wasn't long before we were a united group under President Dave Roland, and the sophomores had to take the necessary precaution of traveling in twos.

Came the night of the Pajama Parade and with typical freshman cockiness we conducted a mass ducking ceremony in Westhampton lake for the minority group of sophomores. Upperclassmen were scarce that night and some of us went swimming of our own volition. And those of us that survived the "Rat Rules" became overlording sophomores. With Hugh Crisman as president of the class, the freshmen were kept on their toes constantly.

Skeptics were shown what the class of '41 had to offer in the field of athletics. Sophomore stars were plentiful in football and the names of Jones, Humbert, Fitzhugh, McVay, Butcher and others were prominently featured in the fall sports news.

During Orientation Week of our Junior year, just as we were about to settle down to work Germany was at war with England and France. James Turkington was president of the class; and it was under his guidance that the big social event of the year was a tremendous success: namely, the Junior Prom.

As seniors, most of us were twenty-one; and to celebrate the occasion our Uncle Sam began his national defense program. While President Earl Fox was busy arranging details for the Senior Ball, he and several of his classmates were answering their Draft questionnaires.

Incidentally this social function was a pleasing progressive step. All the seniors and their dates enjoyed a well-planned banquet at Ewart's Cafeteria before the dance. A tradition was begun when the members of the class of '41 paraded down the floor in a "Grand March." Our class was different in so far that it continually had to contend with the troubles of the outside world.

With graduation upon us, many seniors are looking forward to the early days of July when they will begin a year of compulsory military service in the ever-growing Army of the United States. Those of us who anticipate graduate work are planning hopefully, but with an ever-watchful eye on the local draft commission, which holds the keys to the future.

Seniors—without a care in the world.

Class of 1942

Richmond College

The Class of '42, the best in the school (we have this upon good authority, a poll having been taken at the last Junior Class meeting), made the usual unspectacular entrance in the second week in September, 1938. In no time at all we, the extreme undergraduates, were giving exhibitions, unforgettable exhibitions, for the benefit of the easily-amused upper classes. Trucking, popular dance of the moment, was the favorite request, and the renditions were good, bad, and indescribable. Such goings on did not cease until Christmas. (It seems we didn't beat the Indians that year either.) When the need for a president arose, Clinton Moore was drafted and performed the functions very satisfactorily. We were introduced to campus politics and "straight-ticket" voting, and gave forth with typical freshman reactions.

Another year and we assumed sophomore status and the accompanying prestige. We began to assert ourselves and it wasn't long before the new freshmen realized that it was suicide, no less, to venture out alone after dark. Henry Garnett took over the reins and manhandled the newcomers of Class of '43 into a school-spirited, well-organized group. The Frosh-Soph Hop, with emphasis upon the latter portion, was its usual success with more people attending than usual. The names of Mack, Milling, ReMine, Pitt, Wholey, Fitzgerald, and others carried the honor of 1942 into battle for the Red and Blue. Athletically, intellectually, and socially, the sophomores were developing.

Progressing in the usual chronological order we reached our Junior year. Mark Willing eked out the presidential portion in a class race with Ralph Kinsey, and plans for the Junior Prom began to take form. Soon publicity was pouring forth. Phil Mason and the committee made a valiant attempt to cover every campus inch with signs and posters. We finally arrived at the appointed night and President Willing and Miss Dell Baker led a swarm of Juniors and their dates in the traditional figure with the traditional consequences. Cries of "What a dance" and "Social success" were heard at the conclusion and we all took away with us a great satisfied feeling.

While this was our main activity for the year as a class (of course, WE know that the dance was the Biggest Event of all the social events of the year), we did not fail to take advantage of all the possibilities that the third year of college offered, for we realize that next year the burden of running the campus and its many organizations will rest upon our shoulders and we want to do it to the best of our ability.

Class of 1943

Richmond College

Some say the freshman year is the hardest; some say the sophomore. Those two years are now behind us, and the Class of '43 can look to the future with a calm, sure gaze; we hope!

Behind us we have the two first years, and during this period we have become endowed with Spider spirit, and we finally know what to expect in the normal course of events at the University. We have made our contacts, debated and finally decided upon our majors, and our futures; we have learned the ways and devices of good students, the idiosyncrasies of the faculty, and the best methods of self discipline. It has been a period of orientation and the class of 1943 is firmly and loyally established.

Our leaders during the first year were Dickie Owen as Acting President; John A. Byrd, Secretary; Mike Floyd, Treasurer; and Bob Erickson, Senator. This session we selected John Fitzgerald as Vice-President; Dickie Owen, Secretary; Marvin Cole, Treasurer; and Warren Pace, Senator; to help President Kellison.

Last fall we were memorialized by the Collegian brain trust. They said our spirit was dead. The rats had got away with its murder, but they spoke too soon. The Sophs came back and finished out the year with a bang. In the words of our good president, Bruce Kellison, "You can stamp on us, but you can't keep us down."

After much struggle and strain, the Frosh-Soph Hop was made into history. Dick Owen was our boss and Van Keys, our band. The dance celebrated the end of school for spring holidays and some of us really believe in celebrating!

Academically speaking dear old '43 was not at the top, and our fraternity brothers despaired of the chapter averages when our grades met their eyes. We don't believe in all work and no play. In fact we believe in getting our finger in every pie; John Decker, Dick Owen, and Dave Satterfield are good examples of this. Some made honors, some got elected, some made points, some fell in love, and some just lived. When you want something done, Sophomores will do it.

We have two short years to go but we are really looking forward to them. It seems like only yesterday that we waited for our first matriculation at the Administration Building, and yet already that long line of black-robed graduates is wending its way through our dreams past the lake and up the hill to the Chapel. We realize that we must work diligently so that our dreams will become reality when June, 1943, rolls around.

Prexy Kellison sets off the bonfire at Thanksgiving.

"Where boy meets girl"

Class of 1944

Richmond College

With the Class of '44 something new was tried at Richmond College; namely, the Quietus System. This was the first class that was subject to the "gentlemen's system" as obeyed at West Point, Annapolis, and elsewhere, but it seems that the system didn't work out too well, and it wasn't long until the sophomores were throwing "tea parties" for freshmen who were unacquainted with the ways of a Spider.

For a couple of months it seemed that the new freshmen weren't too anxious to coöperate, and to make friends with their classmates, but it wasn't long until they saw their mistake and then they started pulling together. That was about Thanksgiving time when the pseudo-artists from William and Mary came to paint our campus. The result was that eighteen Indians from Williamsburg received free haircuts, whereas only two of our boys received similar treatment.

George Oliver was elected president, and he did much to mold the class into a smoothly working unit. The eve before Spring Vacation was the Frosh-Soph Hop, and it was agreed by all that this social event proved that the freshmen were working together.

The Class of '44 was particularly outstanding in the field of sports. An unusually large number of students participated in football, basketball, and baseball, and therefore the coaches feel that the Spider teams are going to do big things next year. And we think so too!

Frosh Memories—

Matriculation line in the Administration building, being shouted at by one professor, later discovered to be Dr. Wheeler—first time at Millhiser Gym, for physical exam—speeches in playhouse, reinstatement board—speeches in refectory, speeches—classes, freshman math—fraternity rushing, mauling, running the line at the playhouse every night—pledging—fraternity politics, introduction to—intramural games—opening dances, first tuxedo—question by beautiful girl—"Do you go to Richmond?"—first monthly tests, grades, meetings with faculty advisors—football, City Stadium—Richmond band, new drum majorette—dormitory, water fights, hot boxes, frosh "meetings"—Quietus buttons, V. C. meetings—Building W and M bonfire, watching it, Jeffries and his car, scalping "18"—more and more dances—awakening of an interest in Westhampton, irritation with set ways and rules—Home for Christmas holidays, college man—Hell Week in fraternities, things to do and eat, long talks—Spring hitting the campus, classes, cuts, green grass all around—finally the 1941 WEB is published. . . .

Put more spirit into it, Freshmen!

Westhampton College Government

"A sense of individual responsibility toward college government" was the theme of the College Government Association for this year. Two Councils—Honor Council and Residence Council—formed the basis of new system put into effect by this administration. The Residence Council, having jurisdiction over all social rules, was composed of five members: Chairman of Honor Council, the three House Presidents, and a Junior Representative from the dormitory. Five members sat on the Honor Council, which dealt with major breaches of the Honor Code, Chairman of Honor Council, President of College Government, Day Student Representative, a Junior town representative, and a Junior Representative from the dormitory. Supervising these and the other branches of the association was the executive body, the College Council.

Mayme O'Flaherty
President

In an attempt to get more students actually working in the association three committees were established. The Personality Committee served as an aid to the development of personality and self-improvement, not cared for in the curriculum. Wider knowledge of national and international affairs was gained through discussion groups, sponsored by the Forum Group. The Social Committee served as a promoter for relations between town and dormitory students as well as between faculty and students. A very successful series of teas were given by the faculty for the students.

Closer relations between the two student bodies was a goal of the administrative officers of Westhampton and Richmond College Governments, and a series of tea dances was given for this purpose. The two associations coöperated also in raising money to aid the fund for the erection of the Belgian Building on the campus of Virginia Union University.

Any suggestions or any complaints were referred to the Planning Commission, which had as its chairman the vice-president of College Government. Sitting on the committee were the three class representatives, and four faculty members. Petitions from this group went to the College Council and were then referred to the Dean.

In the hope of aiding the freshmen to accus-

tom themselves to college life, a questionnaire on extra-curricular interests was sent to each member of the incoming class. In addition to these, a printed explanation of the Honor Code was given to each member of the student body.

A change was made also in the voting set-up. The system was greatly improved and accelerated by voting for several officers on one day. In addition to this, there was recommended an alteration in the method of the nomination of class officers. It was suggested that each class appoint a nominating committee to be composed of the present officers of the class, two town students and two dormitory students. To obtain the desired group, the nominations would be posted on the same day with College Government nominations and voting on these offices would take place before those of College Government. It was hoped that this might become effective in the near future.

During the fall, Mayme O'Flaherty and Margaret Brittingham, heads of College Government and Honor Council respectively, attended the Women's Collegiate Association of Student Governments at Alleghany College, Meadsville, Pennsylvania. In the spring, Mayme O'Flaherty and Ninita Gonzalez, new president of Government, attended the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Governments at Sophie Newcomb College, New Orleans, Louisiana.

College! We're rats but we love it! There is so much to learn it swamps us. Rat rules, campus traditions, scads of parallel, quizzes, physics lab not to mention co-eds, bull sessions, dorm rules, fellowship. But the real beauty and dignity of college we see first at Proclamation Night. By Thanksgiving we are almost cocky and with Christmas vacation here we're sure we're the best class yet! But woe—exams, our first, proved to us that the Class of '41 needs a wee-bit more study! Our first May Day passes with our Lantern Parade formation of the "W" in the Greek theatre. After exams we are Sophomores!

The under-dog's the upper for we are Sophomores over a new batch of Freshmen! Grades appear to be improving over those of last year despite our struggles with Gulliver in his travels. On May Day we exhibit our ability to trip the light fantastic as we do the dances on the green and by nightfall we are ready to enjoy ourselves at our own co-ed, our first major undertaking as a class. But the gathering of those daisies at 4:30 a.m. will last our lives through!

Being Juniors means we have "little sisters" and less than two years in college! All our plans, hopes (and fears) of the year now look toward February 3—date of the Junior Prom. As that fateful day arrives all else seems to fade into the background, until, despite snow and hail, our Garden in Valencia proves to be surroundings for the best Prom yet! Confident from that we pass to the Song Contest and to our amazement and great joy we are proclaimed the winners! In all our excitement, however, our classes are not neglected, surprisingly as it may seem, and at the last Chapel, we find that we have won the Mortar Board Cup!

SENIORS. At Proclamation Night as we stand on the platform holding our candles we realize what a road we have traveled since last we participated in this ceremony—as freshmen. All our thoughts and energies are now swept up into preparations for our Senior Show and with the presentation of the "Headless Horseman" we show the campus what we can really do when we work like mad! May Day then is our next worry, but our presentation of "The Pied Piper's Secret" is delightfully refreshing! As we face graduation we remember many small incidents of these four brimming-full years: Proclamation Night, Lantern Night, picking daisies, Junior Prom figure, "Tell Me Why," faculty kitchen, "We Come, We Come with a Dashing Song." Our stay here has instilled within our hearts a love of stately Westhampton College, a demand for personal integrity, a seeking after higher ideals, a realization of life's opportunities and demands. We go on our way with our heads in the clouds but our feet on the ground.

The 1941 Web

Westhampton College

"Where's your rat card, Freshman?" Just ask us and we still jump, for it seems like only yesterday that we were trooping into Westhampton, full of pep and high ideals. To us a rat cap signified glamour, and a bow tie and garters were the acme of sophistication. Now? Just another Freshman, because we're Juniors. But we have to remind ourselves.

Remember the Kiddie Party and Gracie's doll? And Proclamation Night, with Gallicurchi in the aisle? Ethne as President—Then came the Song Contest, and a surge of spirit that has kept us together ever since. Then Lantern Night-walking by the lake, puffing and blowing at the top of the hill. June, and our first exams! "THREE hours?" "Good Heavens!" And for two weeks, everybody had circles under the eyes and straight hair, not to mention a diet of black coffee through the wee small hours. Over at last! We won the Mortar Board Cup! Of course the Seniors got half, but they're leaving.

Didn't the Freshmen look young? As sophomores we surveyed the world through rosy spectacles, but the Freshmen failed to realize our importance. President, Elsa Keuffell, and Sheffield hot after the frosh. The Song Contest again, we showed them how! But if only somebody would let Prometheus loose! Sophomore English and headaches. With May Day came the May Pole Dance. . . . "But we should have put the ribbons on BEFORE we put the pole up!" Will you ever forget Simp swimming on top of the pole with her fists full of yards and yards of ribbons? And then the Daisy Chain. Miles and miles of daisies and sore hands and feet, but the fun came in riding past the dorm in early morn singing at the tops of our voices. Another trudge up the hill, this time carrying tons of daisies. Little Sister pins! Big Sisters Graduating! Vacation!

"This is our big year." Proudly, we pointed out this fact as we guided our little sisters through Orientation week. Then we plunged into the Junior Prom. The Arabian Nights! Slave girls and a regular harem. "Now to get a man!" Weeks of decorating—Badenoch and Lila amongst paint pots and saws. Then the big night! "Best figure we've ever had!" "Queen" Lucy making signs to keep the lines straight and still smiling at the camera. Everybody patting us on the back. But before it was over, we started on the Song Contest. Allene, waving her hands —"HOLD that note!" "The Spider Special," spelled backwards, but it brought victory for us! Then we got to work on "Quiet in Chapel." Results? Good! "Study? What's that?" "If our class doesn't stop having things, I'll flunk right out of school!" But we have second highest average. Mortar Board tappings—May Day again, and props. Senior luncheon and commencement. It'll be us next year, and we're really going to do it up right. We'll be tops as Seniors, and we've got to get ready for those caps and gowns!

Westhampton College

Remember? It seems but yesterday that we saw Westhampton for the first time—not only as a very beautiful college, but as our future Alma Mater. As a freshman class, we were the traditional rats, asking endless questions and patiently bearing the "harsh" treatment of the upper classmen. At Rat Night we showed our talents (or lack of them) to the Sophomores, and from then on we made great progress in becoming an essential part of Westhampton College.

On January 6, 1940 we celebrated our first birthday with a tea, and our pride knew no bounds when we cut the beautiful red and white birthday cake, a gift from our big sisters, the Juniors. Later in the spring we determined to show the other classes what we could do in the way of entertainment, and presented for their enjoyment a program of music and drama, featuring exclusively Freshman talent. However, the most important event of our first year was the traditional Lantern Night, when, with lighted lanterns we walked up the path by the lake at dusk, singing the song that for years has floated up through the pines to the watching stars. With the last examination our first year ended a year that we can look back upon with many precious memories.

Called back to school in the still balmy days of September by the opening of classes, the class of '43 returned to books and classmates, proud in their new freedom from the confines of "rat days," and eager to teach a new group of beginners the whys and wherefores of Westhampton. Electing officers early in the semester, the Sophomores began their second year under the leadership of Helen Ridgely, president, Althea Johnston vice-president, Shirley Huxter, secretary, and Maxine Williams, treasurer.

A favorite pastime—knitting.

Devoting the fall session almost entirely to mastering the notoriously difficult Sophomore courses, we concentrated our attention on our class project early in the second semester, and for the first time on the campus, we presented a program of choral speaking at a spring Vesper Service. In May, ours was the task and privilege of sponsoring the May Day co-ed, and later, of making the daisy chain for the Seniors at graduation.

This rather full and successful year has not only acquainted us more fully with Westhampton College but we have become a class, united in our efforts to forward the cause of our beliefs and achieve the highest level to which a class can aspire.

Westhampton College

To our class, Orientation Week seemed almost an endurance test, for as soon as we reached the campus, we were bombarded by a series of teas, picnics, talks and meetings. Just as we were beginning to be content with our lot, the sophomores made us a gift of the rat rules. Although the rules seemed a bit harsh to us at first, we soon began to like the idea of speaking to everybody on the campus and holding doors for upperclassmen wasn't so bad after you had done it a few thousand times. However, we never quite learned to enjoy rat cards, those too-obvious declarations that we were the lowest and greenest objects on the campus.

This torture continued until Rat Night which was our greatest ordeal. The event was not half so terrifying as the expectation, which was intensified by the threats of the Sophomores, notably Emerson. We threw ourselves wholeheartedly into the work of preparing skits for the occasion, and buried our heads in last year's WEB to learn the Seniors' names. When the sad night finally arrived, our tormentors enjoyed themselves thoroughly, and didn't seem to mind our failing to identify several Seniors.

There was also a serious side to those few first months. On Proclamation Night we officially became members of the student body. The ceremony was very impressive and Kay Hanley, our newly-elected chairman, was presented with the banner after which all of us ascended the platform in our white dresses to receive our class ribbons and song books.

Tree planting was another impressive event. President Boatwright accepted for the University our gift of ten scarlet maples to be planted near the new tennis courts. Our class officers Kay Hanley, Demie Brown, Billy Jane Crosby, Betsy Rice, Evermond Hardee, and Mildred Cox, had the privilege of shoveling the first dirt around the trees, and then all the members of the class joined in with vigor.

It was one of the highlights of the year when our big sisters won the Song Contest and we tied the Seniors for second place.

A picnic at the faculty kitchen was planned for April 1st, our class birthday, but it rained, oh woe! To show that a little rain couldn't get us down, we held our picnic in the Tea Room (where we weren't bothered with any ants).

On the whole, our Freshman year was quite a success. But our career at Westhampton has just begun and we hope that each year we may grow more worthy of our college.

And our classes keep us so busy . . .

Student Bar

Law School

The University of Richmond Student Bar is now completing its second year as the governing body of the students of the Law School. As an idea, it was conceived in the early summer of 1939, and after some months of assiduous labor by our now-departed associate, William S. Goode, was put into effect by adoption of a new constitution in the fall of that year. Its primary functions and purposes are set forth in a carefully drawn Constitution patterned closely after that of the Virginia Integrated Bar. Perhaps the motivating spirit of this "revolution" can best be shown by a restatement of the objects of the Student Bar as promulgated in Article II of the Constitution:

F. H. Jordan
President

(a) To represent and further the best interests, individually and collectively, of its members;

(b) To aid in molding the student mind into channels of thought appropriate to possible further membership in the organization's professional contemporaries, the Virginia State Bar,

the Virginia State Bar Association, and in similar organizations of other jurisdictions;

(c) To promote a spirit of mutual fellowship and a higher sense of understanding among and for fellow members;

(d) To teach a consideration of individual honor and integrity as essentials of the legal profession;

(e) To advance and further the interests of the University of Richmond Law School.

Membership in the Student Bar is divided into three classes. The active members are the students in school, while the associate group consists of alumni. In the honorary group are included those members of the legal profession who have been elected by the Council and who are not classifiable in either of the two preceding categories.

Under the old form of student government there were recognized three classes of students according to one's rank in school, namely, first-year, intermediate, and senior. One of the outstanding features of the new system, aimed at greater compactness, has been the abolition of such class distinctions in the governmental set up. The old first, second, third, and in some unfortunate cases, fourth year classes are now concepts that have existence only in the minds of the faculty. In their places have been set up three circuits, each one of which includes members of every class. These circuits were originally picked by the Court in accordance with the mandate of the Constitution, and the new members of each succeeding year are also assigned to their respective circuits by that body.

The reins to the executive branch of the Bar have this year been in the hands of President Frank Jordan, the pride of Pulaski, who has had as his able assistants Vice-President Gee-Gaw, Secretary Clyde the Scribe, and Treasurer "Little Joe" Polino. In accordance with the modern trend the President is vested with considerable power. Besides his general executive duties he supervises the execution of the laws, recommends legislation to the Council, has a veto power, appoints members to the Court, calls meetings of the Student Bar, supervises auditing of the books, and acts as the representative of the Bar in public relations. The Vice-President acts as President in the latter's absence and presides over the Council. The Secretary keeps the records and gives notice to the members of the Bar of pertinent matters. In keeping with time-honored custom the Treasurer tends the purse-strings in an effort to make the money run until June. Under the able guidance of this quartet the laws have been enforced and all rebellions quelled in the inception.

Better known as Gaskins' club is the Council which is the principal administrative body. It makes such laws as are not repugnant to the Constitution, approves or disapproves the court appointees of the President, names the Grievance Committee, adopts procedure for the enforcement of the Canons of Ethics in order to guarantee due process to any member accused of violation thereof, fixes the amount of dues and makes allocations therefrom, provides for administration of the affairs of the Student Bar in the summer sessions, etc. The Council also gives official expression to the disgust of the Student Bar when the Collegian doesn't publish the law school news. This group is composed of six members, elected two from each circuit and is presided over by the Vice-President who votes only in case of a tie.

The Grievance Committee consists of three members, one from each circuit, appointed by the Council. This group has an important part to play indeed for it receives complaints of violation of the Canons of Ethics, makes investigations, and on the basis of its findings prosecutes the culprits, where there are such, before the Court. This year, however, its work has consisted primarily in formulating a new set of Canons of Ethics and in listening sympathetically to appeals of the nonsporting element who have been unable to gain access to the pool table.

Last in this list of multiple agencies is that august body, the Court. This body, parallel to the great American tradition, determines the constitutionality of actions of the other governmental departments, and, of course, decides cases involving the Canons of Ethics. This year, however, thanks to the integrity of the constituency, its chief function has been the apportioning of new men to their respective circuits.

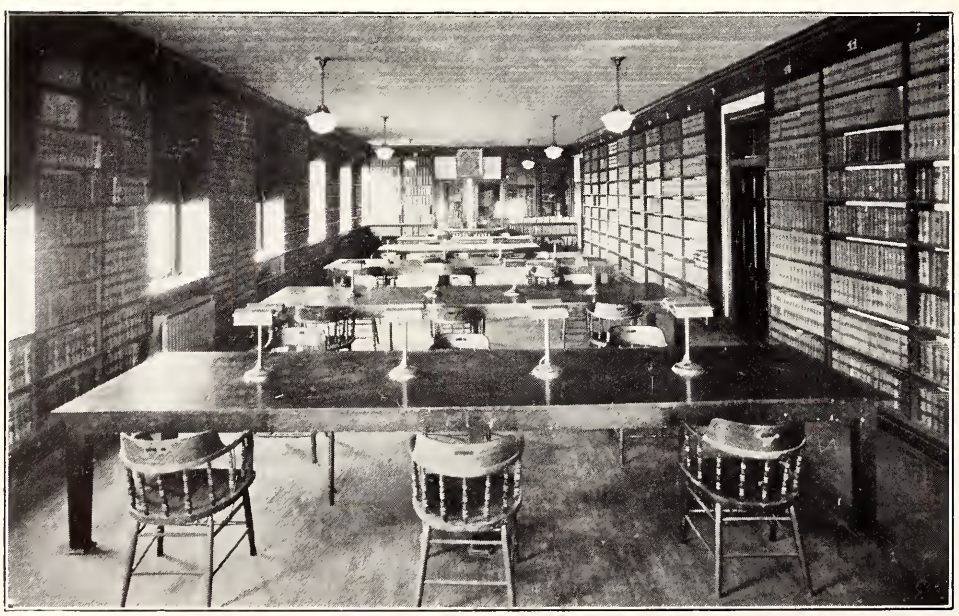
Despite this formidable array of delegated power the Student Bar does carry on in an admirable manner. As a part of its program speakers are brought to the school to keep the students informed on phases of the law of peculiar current interest. And then, of course, there is the social side. Each year is opened with an informal smoker to acquaint students and faculty and satisfy the nostalgia of recent alumni who always return. Also there is a series of formal dances terminating this year on the night of the annual Law School Banquet. For daily relaxation a recreation room is provided wherein one can indulge in very light reading, a friendly game of pool or ping-pong, a hand of bridge, or the most violent of political debates. It is even rumored that the more stolid use the place for occasional cat-naps.

In short, the Student Bar has been a success thus far in all respects, satisfactory in its purpose and operation to students, faculty, and alumni.

Law Library Reading Room



Class of 1941

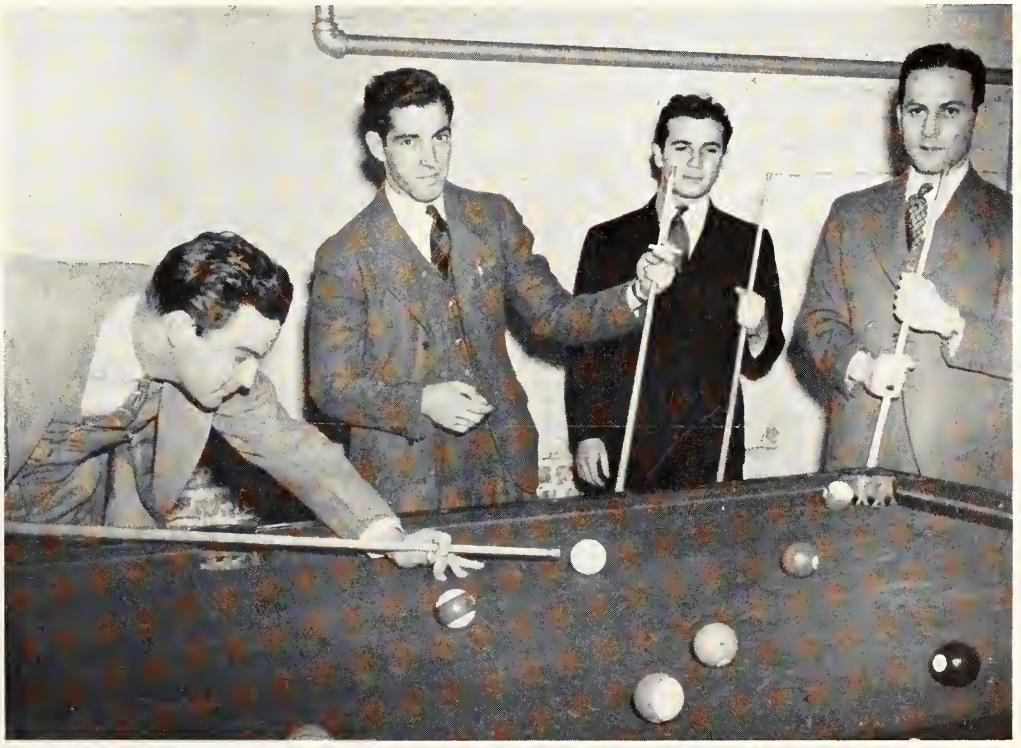
Law School

"The ever-whirling wheele of change, to which all mortal things doth sway" moves onward. Three intense years have now passed since we filled our matriculation cards and blew the dust from our first law books. And years of interest they have been, as full of variety—if this currently appropriate simile will be excused—as a collection of cases on jurisdiction to tax. Prying into the recesses of the mind we find the many little nuggets that have been tucked away for the reminiscences of the future. We spread some of them forth for present examination.

First, of course, there are the professors. That single-worded question "Contract?" with an inevitable "well-uh" introducing the answer of a wavering student. The violent "That's not the way to state these cases" which always made the freshmen quake. The magic whisking of the seisin from Archimedes to Modesty "in the twinkling of a legal eye." The floundering student whose question was answered "Now that's the case of -----v-----, but who never could remember what that case was about either. The reprehensible nature of the fiction. And so on from classroom to classroom.

But then we didn't always study. For who can forget the smoke-filled rooms of party caucuses, the breeding ground of petty politics? A streamlined student government? The first annual Law School Day? The debates (to dignify the proceedings) on the third term? The ignominy of a softball defeat at the hands of the freshmen? Torrid sessions on the pool or ping-pong tables in an effort to unseat the champion? Faculty and students around the radio awaiting the outcome of that greatest of lotteries, the draft? A long tramp to school for Agency examination in Richmond's worst blizzard? The great conflagration of the same day when the students hung from library windows and cheered the sweating firemen ploughing through the snow below? The trying hours of coach class with the tightness that precedes the bar exam, and a lot of other events that go unnumbered here?

Many and rich, indeed, the memories, but we take them forth into a troubled world. On all sides we find the institutions we grew up to know reshaping themselves to meet newly-discovered needs. Without doubt the lawyer's first years are unsettled enough, even in the absence of our aggravated situation.



"The life of a senior—or once you've passed the bar."

Columbia Building

Class of 1942

Law School

The Intermediate Class with indeflexible resolution and united ranks await the zero hour in June at which time they will try to win the third major battle of their legal careers. Having already won decisions over two years of law study, the storming of the State Bar is the next immediate objective. Major General Doubles and his Staff Officers, Generals Smithers, Muse, and Barnett together with Captains Cudlipp, Herrink, Catterall, and Wiltshire have instructed well the draftees, so that today the Class of 1942 drilled and imbued with logic and discipline of the law, is eager for the order: "Battalion forward-guide centre march!"

Who are the members of this noble brigade, well here they are: At the head will be found a cynical, sentimental Young artist in company with a recently married, well known politician. Next comes Hathaway, the Country Judge, in whose Court private first class Parsons defends the weak and oppressed. No regiment is complete without its glamour boys and in our ranks will be found "Robert Taylor" Copley and Neal Patten, of the long wavy hair Pattens. The blood of English aristocracy runs high in the veins of a certain local blue blooded sporting Sixth Baronet who leads a squad of his boon companions, the original F. F. V's; and beside him, astride his white charger, "Blackstone," is Lord Halifax Holland of Suffolk. Deep in thought, studying past maneuvers so that he may win tomorrow's battles, is one of the Jones' boys, the brains of the organization. No roster of this cosmopolitan company would be complete without mentioning the Spanish troubador from south of the Rio Grande and those West Virginia Mountaineers, Polino and Pickus. When the smoke of battle has cleared away Major Whitehead will still be carrying the flag of victory forward, with Shields and Savage as the guard of honor.

Already this legal legion has made plans for the celebration of the victory, and what with the completion of four hours each in Practice and Evidence, nothing that they may do can be held against them. Furthermore, they guarantee that whether viewed from the subjective or the objective standpoint there is not a single member of the brigade that can be judged the average reasonable man and that in the celebration there will be nothing either average nor reasonable.

Like those who have gone before the Intermediate Class has studied long and with diligence and now that they are in sight of having their names read, "John Doe, Esquire, Attorney-at-Law, and Member of the Virginia State Bar," they do not intend to fall by the wayside. After the State Bar has been conquered only twenty-eight hours of credit remain until the significant letters "LL.B." can be added to each and every one's entry in Who's Who.

An elusive point.

This division is not so numerous as at its first muster, for some have since departed voluntarily, and others not quite so willingly, but those who remain are tried and true, and in the coming fray intend to acquit themselves in such a way as to reflect honor and glory upon themselves and that Citadel which they so proudly represent. The University of Richmond School of Law. Bugler Yeatts sounds off the signal to charge.

MISS LAW v. THE CLASS OF 1943

COURT OF HARD KNOCKS (1941)

22 LIFE 234; 25 EXPERIENCE 18

Miss Law, a very jealous mistress, in her declaration charges that the Defendants have breached the contract signed by the parties on September 10th, which reads: ". . . and we the members of the Freshman Class do promise, in consideration of an opportunity to be versed in legal matters, to give to Miss Law our wholehearted endeavors."

In support of her allegations the Plaintiff submitted the following evidence. (1) Arenstein and Garian have spent valuable time in giving certain upperclassmen a very thorough shellacking on the pool table. (2) Pribble and Humphreys have illegally been doing detective work on the side, having submitted the report that Yehudi is the man who invented invisible lens for rimless eyeglasses so that law students could read between the lines in casebooks of unwritten law. (3) Romino, Carr, and Hamilton have been trying to convince the civilized world that there is such a place as West Virginia???? Victories Over V. M. I. and North Carolina

Marked by wins over the University of North Carolina and V.M.I., the 1940 gridiron season ended with the record standing at six and three.

In the opening game in Newport News, two Red and Blue elevens alternated to trounce the Shipbuilders, 38-0. Playing their first game at home, the Big Red team piled up a 28-0 advantage over the Yellowjackets from Ashland. Jones plunged over from the three-yard stripe; ReMine raced fifteen yards to score; Bowen galloped from the twenty-two; and Frohbose took a twenty-five-yard pass from Jones.

In Blacksburg, the Techmen gained an early lead, but Erickson recovered a blocked punt on the Tech one-yard line. Jones ran it over but the attemped conversion was wide. In the third quarter Jones faded back to pass and elected to run as the defense tightened and went over standing up to earn a 13-7 lead.

The Diplomats of Franklin and Marshall were held scoreless until in the fourth quarter a recovered fumble, an intercepted pass, and a seventy-one-yard drive netted the Diplomats a 21-0 win. In the rain on a muddy field, Frank Socha toed a perfect last-minute field goal to earn Washington and Lee a 3-0 victory over Richmond.

Heretofore undefeated V.M.I. bowed 9-7. Katz recovered a fumble on the Keydet twenty-one; Jones passed to Humbert to the six; three plunges failed to gain; then Jones booted a perfect three-pointer to give Richmond a 3-0 lead. V.M.I. came back in the third period to score Shelby to Sexton. Shelby fumbled a punt, and Moore recovered on the one-yard line. Jones ran over for the winning score.

Wholey with two touchdowns, and Jones, Pace, and Collins with one each defeated the Tigers from Hampden-Sydney, 39-13.

Playing host to the powerful Tarheels, Richmond scored a surprising upset to down the Carolinians, 14-13. Jones to Erickson accounted for the first score, and Jones' try for extra-point was good. Carolina drove from their own seventeen to score, but conversion was wide. Sadoff and O'Hare combined forces to score again and the extra-point was good. Then the Spiders took over on the Tarheel twenty-eight. Jones shot a pass to Humbert in the end-zone and the placement by Jones was good to spell the margin of victory.

In the final game of the season, William and Mary routed the Spiders, 16-0.

Andy Froncezk won a place on the All-Southern team, while Jones, Humbert, and Froncezk made All-State.

In the Tournament Again

The 1940-41 basketball squad managed to gain a record of eleven wins as against nine losses in their twenty-game schedule.

Only one regular returned to the team, and four lettermen had to be augmented by inexperienced men up from last year's freshman squad.

Hampden-Sydney was the first five to feel the brunt of the Red and Blue attack. Then the Pittmen journeyed to College Park and downed the Terrapins, 48-36. In Richmond again, the Spider quint tripped Randolph-Macon, and won a 52-45 margin over the Clemson Tigers.

After the Christmas holidays, Lehigh fell before the squad and the record stood at five and none. George Washington University handed the Richmonders their first setback, and Virginia followed with a 37-18 trouncing. An easy win over Randolph-Macon was scored, and a trip to Virginia ended in another defeat.

Maryland and V.M.I. fell victims to the Spiders, and William and Mary halted the streak, 37-32. Two Southern Conference teams were beaten by Richmond next as Furman and V.P.I. lost. Then followed losses to Hampden-Sydney, Washington and Lee, V.M.I., and V.P.I.

Snapping out of a four-game slump, the Spiders came back in the closing ten minutes to eat into a nineteen-point Indian lead and go ahead to down William and Mary, 46-41. The last scheduled game saw Washington and Lee triumph, 28-26. In the Southern Conference Tournament in Raleigh, South Carolina turned on the power and eliminated Richmond by a 41-32 count.

Captain Dick Humbert, Swede Erickson, Mac Pitt, Jr., Afie Jones, and Archie Giragosian bore the burden of play, while Thistlethwaite, Wholey, and Crisman worked in reserve.

Conference Champs for 1940

Piling up a record of sixteen wins as against two losses, the 1940 Pittmen boasted a clean sweep in Southern Conference tilts, and thus copped the title for the first time since the University of Richmond has been a member of the loop.

A powerful pitching staff was the outstanding feature of the diamonders' season. Porter Vaughan, Ned Butcher, and Charlie Miller turned in impressive work on the mound and formed a strong first line of defense. Butcher and Miller won six games each, while Vaughan took four and ran into stumbling blocks against the Cavaliers in 1-2 and 4-5 losses.

Captain Stuart Hoskins worked behind the plate in fine style until a broken finger suffered in the first William and Mary game took him out of the line-up. Joe Mack and Harry Fainter took over his duties for eight games, and Hoskins returned to the diamond for the final contest.

The Richmonders opened the season by trouncing the touring Ohio State nine twice on consecutive days, and followed through by winning over Davidson and North Carolina State on the Carolina trip. Washington and Lee, Vermont, V. P. I., and Randolph-Macon next bowed to the Richmonders and the winning streak was stretched to eight. Then followed the first win over William and Mary.

The nine-game perfect record was broken as the Spiders played host to the Cavaliers in the Richmond City Stadium. Vaughan gave up five well-scattered hits, while Bill Harman was holding the Red and Blue to two safeties.

Coming back into the win column, the Pittmen hit hard down in Williamsburg to win the return game from the Indians. Six more games were bagged in championship fashion as Hampden-Sydney, V. P. I., Randolph-Macon and Washington and Lee fell once, and V. M. I. twice.

Erratic infield play proved too great a handicap in the final State Championship game in Charlottesville as the Tebellmen staved off two Spider rallies, and came out on the long end of a 5-4 count.

Captain Stuart Hoskins talks professional ball with Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox.

Ned Butcher was credited with the two wins over Randolph-Macon, and single victories over Ohio State, Davidson, William and Mary, and V. M. I. Charlie Miller won games from Ohio State, N. C. State, V. M. I., Vermont, William and Mary, and Hampden-Sydney. Porter Vaughan's wins were two each over Washington and Lee and V. P. I.

Starting the majority of the contests were Bill Burge on the initial sack, Sonny Wholey on second, Johnny Locke at shortstop, and Jack Powers on third. In the outfield were Dick Humbert, Joe Thomas, and the resting pitcher.

Two games with the University of Maryland and single tilts with Hampden-Sydney and George Washington University were rained out.

Captain Stuart Hoskins led the team at the plate with a batting average of .421. The end of the season saw the two outstanding senior members of the squad sign contracts to play professional ball. Porter Vaughan went with the Philadelphia Athletics who paid him an $8,000 bonus, one of the largest ever paid a Richmond athlete, while Stuart Hoskins signed to catch for the Boston Red Sox.

Undefeated in Dual Meets

Accounting for five wins in as many meets, the 1940 Spider cindermen chalked up their first undefeated season for a Richmond track squad in fifteen years. In dual contests, Hampden-Sydney, N. C. State, Washington and Lee, V.M.I., and William and Mary bowed to the tracksters.

Opening the schedule with an informal meet in Death Valley in which freshmen were allowed to participate, the Richmonders ran rough-shod over the Tigers, 97-29. Coach Thistlethwaite's charges scored clean sweeps in the 440-yard run, javelin throw, discus, shot put, high jump, and broad jump to clearly dominate the field.

Keil scored two first places against the Wolfpack in Raleigh, as the Spiders coasted in on the long end of a 68-58 count. Clint Moore scored a record vault in this meet.

On a rain-soaked field in Lexington against the Generals, the Red and Blue again triumphed, this time 65-60. Harold McVay was in the hospital with an infected leg, but Captain Sinar and Bob Keil scored the points to sew up the meet.

Running off their first meet on home territory, the Richmonders next played host to the V.M.I. Keydets and emerged with a 70 1/3-55 2/3 win to keep their record clean.

In the last dual meet, the William and Mary squad went down before the undefeated Spiders 75-51. Captain Ed Sinar ended his season in regular meets by piling up a total of twelve points to pace the scoring for the day.

Entry in the Big Six Meet and the Virginia AAU Meet closed the season for the Red and Blue Squad.

Harold McVay with a heave of forty-five feet, eight inches in the shot put, and Clint Moore with a jump of twelve feet, eight inches in the pole vault set new records, and each was awarded a gold track shoe.

Netmen Break Even

Plagued with rain in seven out of their twenty scheduled matches, the 1940 Tennis squad earned six wins, were defeated six times, and had one match end in a deadlock.

In the majority of the contests Bill Snyder took over the number one position; Captain John Abernethy worked in number two; George Shackelford was in the three post; John Wright in four; Jimmy Donohue at five, and Jack Jones in number six. Leslie Phillips worked as a reserve and won his letter.

A trip to North Carolina opened the season and the Richmonders dropped two contests, one to N. C. State and the other to Wake Forest. Evening the record column, the Spiders returned home to chalk up two victories. Drexel and Haverford were the visiting netters.

In the fifth start a one-sided loss was marked against Richmond as Colgate triumphed 7-1. The trip to Washington was marked by rain and the Maryland match cancelled, but despite the weather the match with American University was begun. With the score at 4-all and the final doubles match at one set each, rain called a halt to the contest.

Next came a clean sweep over Randolph-Macon, and an equally clean set-back at the hands of the touring Terrapins from Maryland. Another victory, 5-4, was scored over the Yellowjackets. Dick Pinck led the Washington and Lee team to a 9-0 win over Richmond to show the Spiders a record of five defeats and four wins. The Red and Blue journeyed to Williamsburg and downed the William and Mary Squad, 5-4. George Washington again upset the standings by winning, 6-3. However, the last match was taken by Richmond over the Indians to even the deficit.

Crewmen Win Over Rollins

In four races in the 1940 season, the crew emerged with two victories, one defeat, and a sixth place in the Dad Vail Regatta.

On their spring holiday trip to Florida waters, the Water Spiders edged out American International, as the AIC team fought to overcome an early Richmond lead. A mere four feet was the margin of victory.

The next afternoon saw the watermen hand Rollins College their first defeat in home waters. This meet was taken in stride and the Richmonders crossed the finish a full length and a half ahead of the Winter Park crew.

The Asheville squad defeated Richmond by a good margin of two and a half lengths on the James. Running into trouble in the invitation Dad Vail Regatta, the crewmen struck a buoy to rank sixth.

Westhampton Athletic Association

President Alice Smith presided over the Athletic Association Board consisting of Jean Hood, vice-president; Reba Booker, secretary; Frances Badenoch, treasurer; Helen Dodd, manager of Hockey; Elizabeth Cardwell, manager of basketball; Evermond Hardee, assistant manager of basketball; Anne Shafer, tennis manager; Georgie Simpson, track manager; Miss Fanny G. Crenshaw and Mrs. Dallas Grubbs acted as faculty advisers.

The first event planned for the year was a picnic for the freshmen during Orientation Week in the faculty kitchen. Next followed the hike to Bosher's Dam for the entire student body, which gave the newcomers a glimpse of the upperclassmen.

At the Virginia Field Hockey Tournament, held in the fall of 1940 at Sweet Briar College, President Smith extended an invitation to the Association to hold the state tournament at Westhampton College for the fall of 1941.

Christmas time brought on the annual Athletic Association Christmas Co-ed which was as the custom, a great success for both the treasury and the students who came and enjoyed the dancing. Just before Spring Vacation, the second A.A. Co-ed was given to honor the team captains and the letter winners from both Westhampton and Richmond College.

The annual song contest was held in the Social Center Building with Mrs. Harker, Mr. Skinner of the faculty, and Pauline Cortopassi, alumna, as the judges who announced the Class of 1942 the winner.

Positions on the plaque hanging in the gym lobby are the president of the Athletic Association, captains of hockey, basketball, and tennis, and track champions. This year the names of Mary Alice Smith, Elizabeth Cardwell, and Helen Dodd have already been added in the first three places mentioned.

May 21st, the Spring Banquet was held and presided over by President Smith. Seal and Blazer Winners were announced, and the varsity tennis and track letters were awarded. The annual week-end trip for the old and new boards concluded the year's work.

Varsity Hockey

The Spiderettes were off to a good start with a 4-0 victory over the prep team from Thomas Jefferson. Stumbling blocks were met in John Marshall 1-3 and St. Catherine's 1-2, but the Co-ords came back to white-wash Collegiate 11-0, and to post a 2-0 win over Madison College. One win against The Apples and a tie with William and Mary marked the Red and Blue success at the Virginia Field Hockey Tournament at Sweet Briar. Sweet Briar's strong team traveled to Richmond to defeat the Co-ords by a 4-1 score. Next on the Spiders' schedule was a match game with the United States Touring Team which Westhampton lost 7-0. However, they came through to win the last game of the season from the Alumnae 2-1.

The Red and Blue team competed in the Virginia Field Hockey Tournament at Sweet Briar and tied the William and Mary Indians 1-1, with Mary Alice Smith scoring. In the second part of the tournament the Co-ords beat The Apples 8-0. Seven Westhampton players were chosen for the exhibition match. Helen Dodd made first team; Smith, Philpott, and Poteat, the second; Purcell, substitute. These players with Scherer, goalie, represented Westhampton at the South eastern Tournament at Baltimore. There, Smith and Dodd were placed on the Reserve and Reserve B teams, respectively, to play in the National Tournament at Williamsburg. This tournament, held at Williamsburg on November 21, 22, and 23 and six Spiderettes: Dodd, Lawson, Philpott, Purcell, Smith and Woodfin played in the matches.

Varsity letters for the season were awarded to Captain Elizabeth Cardwell, Badenoch, Manager Dodd, Huxter, Kindell, E. Lawson, Philpott, Poteat, Purcell, Riley, Scherer, A. G. Simpson, and Smith. Ball and Woodfin won substitute letters.

With double wins over both the Freshman and Junior teams, the champions bowed in defeat only once during the entire season. Runners-up in the tournament were the Juniors and Sophomores with three wins, one tie, and two defeats for each team.

Varsity Basketball

Experiencing one of the best seasons in years, the Co-ord varsity basketball team came out with a nine game season marred only by a 19-15 defeat in their last game of the year.

Starting off the year with no great hopes for an unusually good team, the squad came through under the leadership of Captain Helen Dodd, Manager Elizabeth Cardwell, and Coach Fanny G. Crenshaw to win the first tilt 30-20 from the alumnae. They won out over the Thomas Jefferson squad by a bare 15-14, but came back stronger against the St. Margaret's players for an 18-6 win. Half letter winners and half new recruits comprised the team that defeated John Marshall by a score of 31-13.

Playing host to the Madison College sextette from Harrisonburg before a record crowd, the Red and Blue femmes engaged in a hard fought game to have the fray end in a 13-13 tie. A double-header with the Richmond Professional Institute next filled the bill for the Co-ords. The Varsity took their game with a thirty point lead in a 39-9 count. Second stringers also triumphed over their opponents to the tune of 20-8. Another double-header took place when the St. Catherine's teams visited the Westhampton Gym, and the Westhamptonites went through the Yellow and White for a 20-10 victory. The second team was less fortunate, however, bowing in defeat before the preppers, 19-21. Meeting the William and Mary Indians in their first court match in approximately fifteen years, the Co-ords gave an outstanding exhibition of court play to triumph 19-12.

The Westhamptonites travelled to Sweet Briar for their last game of the season and the only one off their home court. It was at this tilt that the Co-ords' record was broken by a four point loss, as the Briarites won out 19-15.

Class Basketball

Runners-up in the class hockey tournament, the Sophomore Class came into its own to take the class basketball crown from the fighting freshmen with five wins and only one loss. The defeat came at the hands of the Freshman Class.

Close in the race for first place was the Freshman Class team with four wins and only two defeats on their seasonal record. The Senior Class team, besides placing in the race for the first time in their college career, came through in the championship competition to take third place, beating the Juniors out by winning three tilts and losing the same number. One game behind them came the Junior Class basketballers with two wins against four losses.

The winning team was composed of Captain Johnston, Huxter, Ridgley, Lawson, Booker, G. Simpson, Herrink, Nuckols, and Proffitt. Mary Owen captained the senior team which won more games this year than in any other in their college life. Up until this season the seniors had won three games in three years. was captain of the freshman court team.

As a climax to the season, the Odds met the Evens to win by a large margin, 24-11. At the end of the half, however, the Evens were ahead, 5-4. High scorer for the day was Johnston of the Odd team with nine points, closely followed by Dodd with eight, and Macdonald of the Evens with seven markers. Other forwards scoring were Vicars, Huxter, and Nuckols.

On the Odd team were seniors Dodd, Owen, and Smith, and sophomores Johnston, Huxter, Nuckols, Booker, G. Simpson, and Lawson. Playing for the Even team were juniors A. G. Simpson, Badenoch, and Vicars, and freshmen Macdonald, Green, Muldowney, Hardee, and Kipps.

The Co-ord tennis femmes engaged in intercollegiate tennis matches with St. Catherine's, Collegiate, John Marshall, Thomas Jefferson, and the College of William and Mary during the season of 1940. Of these matches four out of five were victories for the Spiderettes who lost only to William and Mary in a 2-1 singles defeat; however, the doubles match was won from the Indians by Westhampton. Plans are being made to play them again this year.

Ladder matches were used to determine the rating of the players on the team. The results were these: Helen Dodd, school singles champion, played number one; Grace Thompson, freshman, took over number two; Margaret Purcell, junior, played number three; and Lucy Baird, senior, was number four. Purcell and Baird teamed for the doubles matches.

Track Winners

The annual track meet of Westhampton is intra-mural rather than intercollegiate. Individual high scorer for 1940 was Evie Lawson, '43, and the Freshman Class also captured the cup. Letter winners were Lawson, '43; McAuley, '42; Purcell, '41; Dodd, '41; and Kindell, '41. Meet events were won by the following: high jump, McAuley; broad jump, Nicholsky; hop, step, jump, Kindell; 50-yard, Lawson; 75-yard, Lawson; 100-yard, Kindell; hurdles, McAuley; shot-put, Keuffel; basketball throw, Dodd; relays, Juniors.

Blazer Winners

Westhampton blazers are awarded by the Athletic Association at their spring banquet to those girls who have won varsity letters in three major sports, which are hockey, basketball, tennis and track. These blazers are the greatly coveted white flannel jackets with the red Westhampton—tower seal on the top pocket. They give recognition for outstanding ability and achievement in athletics. The number of bars on the pocket insignia indicates the number of sports in which a letter has been won, and a star is added to the insignia for the number of letters which have been won. Three Co-ords, who are now in school who have won Westhampton blazers are Helen Dodd, Margaret Purcell, and Evie Lawson. Helen Dodd is one of the three girls at Westhampton ever to win a blazer as a Freshman. She was awarded the honor after winning varsity letters in basketball, tennis, and track her first year out. The others were Juliet Florence, '39 and Elsa Keuffell, ex-'42.

Seal Winners

The Westhampton seal is one of the highest honors conferred by the Athletic Association Board. It is a red and blue flannel seal of the University and is conferred on those students, Juniors and Seniors, who have shown the greatest leadership in athletics whether as a player or as a spectator, and the best sportsmanship in college life. A girl who wears a seal is one who has exhibited good sportsmanship and school spirit at all athletic games, school gatherings and other functions. She may or may not be a participant, but she has a contagious enthusiasm. She must have shown great ability as a leader throughout her life on the campus. It is her coöperation and school spirit that makes games successful and enjoyable, and because of her interest and enthusiasm in the promotion of athletics, she is awarded the seal of Westhampton College at the annual spring banquet given by the Athletic Association.

At the banquet last spring seals were awarded to Seniors Betty Willets and Lucy Baird, and Junior Helen Dodd. Those girls in the picture are the seal winners of 1939 and 1940.

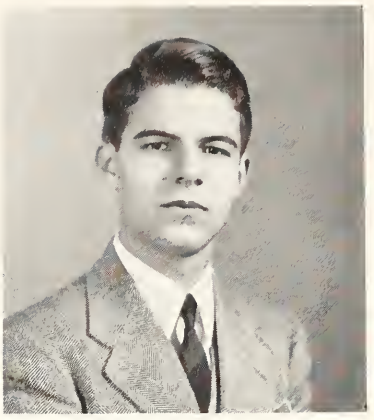
ACTIVITIES

The Messenger

PHYLLIS ANNE COGHILL,
Editor-in-Chief.



SIMPSON WILLIAMS,
Business Manager.

The Messenger is still The Messenger. It was the first existing student publication on this campus; time will probably show it to be the last. The Messenger is old, but don't let anyone tell you it is decrepit. It changes with the times, slowly perhaps, but always changing.

Two others—the college editors, Jean Neasmith for Westhampton and Murray Barr for Richmond—deserve and should get their share of The Messenger's orchid. The big boss said, "Do," and lo! It was done! If the pleas for copy had fallen on deaf ears, sad indeed would be our plight. No Messenger?—that could never be.

The first issue was an occasion of hard knocks and surprises. Just before it came out, the staff, en masse, visited the printer "to get everything straightened out." The editors were shocked to hear the gentleman, who aided them in the "straightening" announce that, "Frankly, some of the stuff you have sent us in the past stinks." The editor hastened to explain this was a new staff, and they had never sent anything before. "O K," said the man, "I hope you're better." The campus evidently thinks they are because more Messengers have been used, we dare not say read, than ever before.

The Richmond Collegian

Another year's supply of water has flowed over the dam at the foot of the lake and another thirty-two issues of the Richmond Collegian have clanked through the ancient flat-bed presses at the print shop. Volume XXVII is now history and a varied history it is. Fun and sadness, work and pleasure, success and failure, all have played their part in the production of your student newspaper.

No mighty news events or startling catastrophes have been recorded on the Collegian's pages this year. College life has been to a large extent a smooth and balanced existence, full of expected events. Vespers, dances, literary societies, and sports have filled the sheets each week. Rare indeed is the opportunity for any college paper to break an important story, and yet every little school journal in the land serves an important function. They train and they teach. That is an important though unrecognized aim of the Collegian. That purpose has been automatically fulfilled as the men and women of our campus learn to publish a newspaper. Not only do they learn to write and read copy, but through their work they discover many of the essentials of character that can best be learned from journalistic labors.

Another effort the Collegian has made is towards the very stuff of democracy—public opinion. Only with the aid of an alert and fighting paper can a student body ever hope to make its wishes felt for nothing can take the place of the newspaper as a molder of opinion. Senior exams, bowling leagues, booing, physical fitness, politics, debate, and other subjects ad practically infinitum have been discussed. The University of Richmond's student publications are peculiarly free from faculty censorship. The students have taken full advantage of this benefit, and yet have not abused it.

This fifty-first year of the Collegian's existence has been directed by Ed Arendall. His shaky Plymouth survived the piles of student journalists headed for the Thursday print shop meetings for approximately one semester. Then it quit, but not the "Chief." He shifted to the Cotten-Warriner fire wagon for his rides. Then that died of financial troubles, and Mr. Arendall when last seen was riding the street car. Commuters always said, "The worst part of the day's work is getting there." None know this better than those members of the Collegian staff who must by hook or by crook, through rain or shine, walk, bum, or buy their way to the print shop once a week.

It is a motley crew than assembles there, those people who put out your paper. Juliette "Julie" Loving is the Westhampton boss, and in her perpetual fight for news space and the best publicity she valiantly stands up for W. C. with the aid of managing editors Betty Sessler and Lila Wicker. Joe Nettles' journalism class is also well represented on the editorial board by Bob Cotten and Emmett "Tom" Warriner. Ed Adams is the sports editor, and those are all the big shots. There are a great many little shots as well as littler shots cluttering up the shop. They all serve some purpose though, and are due much of the credit for the completed product.

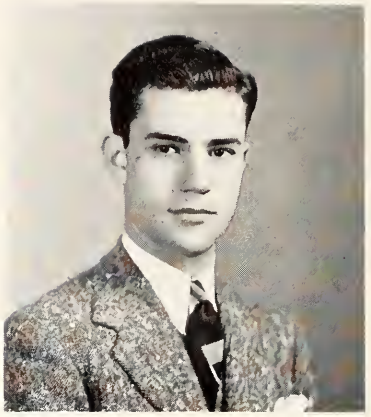
THE 1941 WEB



Norman Brown,
Business Manager.

"Well, if it isn't good enough, we'll have to do it over again." These words of our editor are truly expressive of the spirit of the 1941 Web. We have sought to improve and advance in every open field.

It has been hard work. Many long hours of listing, writing, interviewing, searching, and checking have gone into this book. The doorstep of the Web office has been worn down at least an inch more to say nothing of the window sills. The filing cabinet is loaded with false starts, poor pictures, and halfway writeups. The desk is scarred and battered. Ed Massie's Chevy is ten years older in point of service. Worn out typewriter ribbons and dried up jars of paste are mute but unanswerable evidence of the real effort that has gone into this volume.

The names and honor due to each of those who helped us would fill many a page. The organizing genius and driving ability that makes this volume possible came, to a large extent, from one person, our editor, Ed (Edmond) Massie. We, the members of his staff, agree that he worked us mighty hard, but we also must acknowledge that we enjoyed it. Jeanette Evans was the Westhampton editor, a gruelling and exacting position. The effort to please 300 girls by getting their names right, their pictures straight, and their honors complete would keep anybody busy. Teeny has been a busy person.

The book has much less white space and much more black work in it than any one of recent years. There are more pictures and more words in it. The pictures aim at being a nearly complete description with the writing helping out with the details. More effort has (we hope) produced in the write-ups life and spirit as never before.

The 1941 WEB is our production and we are proud of it. It's measure of success cannot be determined for at least fifty years. If, at the end of those five decades, it brings back the memories, the life, the sadness and the joys of campus days, the 1941 WEB will have been a success.

Young Men's Christian Association

In an effort to carry out their central theme, that of making the campus " 'Y' Conscious," the Young Men's Christian Association was a veritable beehive this year, sponsoring projects in a continuous stream. The "Y" building served as a meeting place and recreation center for a good portion of the student body, and offers many means of diversion.

During the fall every member of the "Y" Cabinet could be found spending his evenings with a paint brush in his hand as the group reconditioned the reading room of the "Y" Building. The result was a cozy little room done in blue and grey with draperies at the windows, red upholstered furniture, a new radio with phonograph attachment, a new card table and several lamps.

When Religious Emphasis Week came around, the whole cabinet was back of it. The forums and much of the advertising were sponsored by the group. The YMCA also sponsored two very successful tournaments, one in the realm of horseshoe pitching, and one for the ping-pong addicts. In addition, the group brought several speakers of prominence to the campus during the year, conducted student worship periods, gave a program at Vespers, assisted in freshman orientation, and organized a frosh cabinet.

Young Women's Christian Association

Striving to accomplish its aim of "increasing an interest in religious thought in a day when religion can play such a vital rôle," Y.W. was led by the sponsorship of Miss Susan Lough, Mrs. Grace Watkins Lampson, and Mrs. Henry Decker.

Among the new ideas was the publication for the use of all college girls of two booklets: one containing the programs of each month of Y.W. activities during 1940-41, and the other, a devotional outline for each day.

Other activities included the regular service held in the dormitory every other Tuesday evening, and a monthly meeting for all members. Y.W. held several chapel programs and had as its speakers and topics: Dr. George Hancock of Virginia Union University on the "Negro Problem"; Miss Emily Brown, dramatist, who read the short story "From England to America"; Mrs. Amy A. Guy on "The Citizens' Service Exchange"; Mrs. John Decker on "The Meaning of Y.W. at Westhampton"; Miss Lucy Mason, labor organizer, on "The C.I.O." During orientation week, Y. welcomed the freshmen with a tea and the traditional Kid Party. As a part of their social work program the members took Christmas boxes to the girls at Kilbourne Farm, and they furnished entertainment and devotional programs at the Home for Incurables and the Crippled Children's Hospital. The group was also active in forming a more friendly relationship with the negroes of Richmond and several Y. members aided in the formation and weekly activities of a negro Girl Scout troop.

The melodious voices of the Richmond College Men's Glee Club were raised in song on many noteworthy occasions and with very satisfactory results in the past year.

One of the greatest accomplishments of the year was the rendition of the admirable "Ballad for Americans," for which they were warmly praised. This well-arranged work by the Richmond composer, John La Touche, proved to be a very popular part of the concert program.

During the course of the year the club sang regularly in Chapel and once a month at Vesper Services, and they had a standing engagement to sing at Ewart's Cafeteria on "Family Night" every month. Other performances were given at the Homecoming broadcast from the Westwood Supper Club and at the Teachers' Convention held in Richmond last November.

As spring began to invade the campus the members of the Glee Club packed their belongings and were off on their annual southern tour. Concerts were given at Averett College, Salem Academy, and Coker College.

Organized in 1926, the Richmond College Glee Club has advanced until today it holds an enviable position in the organizational set up of the University.

Westhampton College Glee Club

The Westhampton College Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. F. Flaxington Harker, entertained the campus with a new feature this year. Aside from its regular activities, the Club presented early in November a Pop Concert set in a Bavarian background, and for the occasion, they supplemented their repertoire with several lighter selections. Because of the response and the success of the Concert, it is hoped that it will become a traditional event on the campus.

The Club's other activities during the year included a program of carols during the Christmas season, programs of singing once a month at Vespers, and trips to other colleges. The highlight of the spring semester was the annual formal concert given in April.

University of Richmond Choir

The University of Richmond Choir has this year reached the highest point of its long life.

Not only has the singing been much improved over former years, but the choir now embraces a much larger group than ever before. Over fifty persons have maintained their interest in the organization's work and attended practice sessions regularly every Thursday evening. George Whitley deserves the credit for his untiring efforts as president. The choir could never have begun to sing, however, except for the efforts of Mrs. F. Flaxington Harker, the director.

The outstanding program of the year was the annually-presented "Messiah." Handel's great music was enjoyed in the Cannon Memorial Chapel by a large audience of music lovers from Richmond and vicinity. They also often lead the congregational singing at Convocations of Westhampton and Richmond Colleges.

During the Easter period the singers rendered very creditably the "Gallia" by Gounod. The choir served in various services during the final graduation exercises.

Socials through the year kept it from being an all work and no play proposition. A weinie roast, a party, and a dance make up a partial list of the adventures of the serious-minded singers.

The word has gone out that next year's choir will be finer yet with a broader program, but to do so, it will have to go far to beat this year's fine organization.

University of Richmond Band

The Spider band was a well-knit, well-practiced unit this year and proved itself one of the school's most valuable organizations. Every Monday and Thursday during the session the members gathered in the "Y" Building to go through an hour of strenuous practice. And then, snappily attired in their red and blue uniforms, the band appeared at home football games and gave an excellent account of themselves.

Miss Marie Faison as drum majorette marked a new forward step for the band. Needless to say, she added a great deal of color to the half-time programs, and to help her there was Mr. Lawrence Sheffield twirling the baton in his old rôle as drum major.

Following the gridders to Blacksburg, the Spider musicians led the Red and Blue cheers and played a major rôle in our well-earned victory over the Gobblers.

As the principal feature of every pep rally, the band boosted Spider spirit to new heights, especially when they broke into good old "Dixieland Swing," or Fred Waring's "Spider Fight Song."

After the close of football season, the University of Richmond band made highly successful appearances at Mary Washington College and at the Winchester Apple Blossom Festival.

Debate Team

With a diversified schedule and not too many debates, the Richmond College Debate Team has just completed a fairly successful season. Frank Connor, team manager, and Straughan Lowe Gettier, manager of home debates, were the guiding lights of the organization and deserve praise for their worthy efforts.

A new feature that proved very helpful were the early season practice debates which polished up the jagged edges and speeded up the development of the new talent. In previous history, no debate team had debated with or against a Westhampton College group, but with little regard for former policies the Richmonders achieved both feats.

Twelve home debates and only six away gave the team a favorable balance. The foreign tour extended through eleven states and into Canada as far as Montreal.

Forensic Council

The Forensic Council is composed of men who are particularly outstanding in literary society work and debating. The membership includes the president and one representative of each of the three literary societies, the manager of the debate team, and three students elected at large.

The council sponsors the college debate team, and all tryouts for the team are made before a judging group of council members. All appropriations to the literary societies are made through and by the council.

Social activities were in order in the fall and the members held a Ladies' Night to which all members of the literary societies were invited. A majority were accompanied by Westhampton students and the occasion was a great success. In the early spring the Forensic Council once more honored the literary societies with a banquet.

Mu Sigma Rho Literary Society

The oldest and largest society on the campus, Mu Sigma Rho, has always had for its purpose the development of oratorical powers—speaking, debating, and reading. This year open forums were encouraged with extremely interesting and gratifying results.

For the past five years the society has won the Campus Intersociety Debating Competition. The team of last year won without losing a single debate, and by so doing caused the society to come into permanent possession of the President's Trophy for intersociety debating.

The society has this year revived the old custom of voting at each meeting on the speeches presented that evening. This has done much to inspire spirited competition among the speakers, resulting in better topics and better speaking technique.

The group has not strictly conformed to only literary activities but has enjoyed several athletic contests with the other societies. They can boast of victory over the Philologian Society in touch football, during the fall. These games have tended to build up a spirit of fellowship within the group and a feeling of goodwill and coöperation with the other literary organizations.

The annual banquet was held in the fall at Ewart's Cafeteria with the Rev. Sam Habel, Pastor of West End Baptist Church, Suffolk, and an alumnus of the organization, as the speaker.

One of the most entertaining meetings was held in coöperation with the Philologians in the Y.M.C.A. Building around an open fire. On that evening an English refugee spoke and Coach Thistlethwaite talked about the part of college students in national defense.

University of Richmond

S. C. Mitchell Literary Society

The S. C. Mitchell Literary Society, the youngest of the three literary groups, holds its meetings every Monday night at the University of Richmond School of Law. This is the only society that meets in town, and for that reason its membership is composed chiefly of town students.

In the spring of 1940, the worthy brothers secured keys with the bust of Dr. Samuel Chiles Mitchell, for whom the society is named. Keys are presented to those who have been active in the society for at least two years.

Searching about for a project, the group finally decided that the minutes of the past decade were in dire need of a first class compiling job. After weeks of research and rewriting the full minutes were ready for the binder, and the project was accomplished.

The brothers of S. C. Mitchell coöperated with Mu Sigma Rho and the Philologian Society in a tri-society meeting, which was a progressive step in the history of literary work on the campus.

Entering the field of athletics for the first time in its history, S. C. Mitchell challenged the winner of the annual Mu Sigma Rho-Philologian touch football game and found the results gratifying enough to warrant turning this contest into an annual affair also.

In the field of forensics, the members of S. C. Mitchell Literary Society spent most of their time actively debating the foremost controversies of the day. The Forensic Council question, resolved: That the Poll Tax In Virginia Should Be Abolished, received much attention.

Under the able leadership of President Bolling Williams, Stuart Williams as Vice-President; Ralph Kinsey as Secretary, and Bill Metzger as Treasurer, the Society experienced a very full year that resulted in increased forensic activities and many strong friendships.

Philologian Literary Society

On many a Monday evening during the past year there could be heard at supper time around the dormitories and the Refectory a familiar argument—"Do you think I ought to cut and go to a show or not?" Many of the perpetrators of these foul thoughts were members of the Philologian Literary Society which met down in "Dr. Mitchell's room" in the Administration Building on most of these same Monday evenings.

Led by Joe Wiggins in the first half and Billy Hughes during the spring term, the group has just passed one of its best years. The speaking ability of every member has received the attention of the whole society and in many cases speaking habits and delivery have been improved. The Philologians say that this is the keynote of their efforts, "Give every man plenty of chance." We have private information from the two vice-presidents, Jack Manley and John Decker, that every man didn't seem to really want a chance to speak. The thankless job of vice-president has as its main function the arranging of programs and it keeps the "vices" working.

The society has a varied program including not only student speakers but others more qualified to present important topics. Dr. Modlin and Dr. McDanel were among them. Several debates were presented including a preëlection fracas between the Universities of Virginia and Richmond on the best man for the job of President of the United States. Richmond supported the winning candidate. Several forum discussions including a tough argument on the best rushing system were heard.

At the close of this year every man who has taken an active and vital interest in the literary society's work knows that he has not only benefited himself immeasurably but has served in one of Philologian's finest societies.

Newman Club

The Newman Club is a Catholic Club of culture and fellowship, established at institutions of higher learning, to strengthen and fortify the spiritual ideals of the students. It is meant to stimulate and increase their interest in the finer things and to create the best intellectual and social contacts.

The first Newman Club was established at the University of Pennsylvania in 1893 by Dr. Timothy L. Harrington. Today the movement has spread to virtually every large university and college in the United States, Canada, and the Orient. The first Newman Club was organized at the University of Richmond this year by Rev. Dr. Francis J. Blakely of Sacred Heart Cathedral.

The ideals of the Newman Club are those of its patron, John Cardinal Newman, namely, love of truth, honesty, hatred of duplicity and coarseness, refinement of manner, gentleness and manliness.

Biology Club

The Biology Club at the University of Richmond was founded in recognition of the need for a society on the campus for those who are truly interested in the study of that science. The year 1938, marked the beginning of the club at Richmond and in the past three years the group has grown considerably in members and scope.

Membership in the Biology Club is open to all students of the University who are majoring in biology. Meetings are held at regular intervals, at which time the members give talks or present papers dealing with topics of general interest. Following these presentations there is usually a general discussion by the entire club.

Besides the student speakers the club has had prominent visitors to add interest to the meetings. Among these were Dr. Main, a professor at the Medical College of Virginia and Dr. Myers, and they spoke on things of particular interest to college biology students.

This year the society has made several very interesting excursions to various points in the neighboring locality. These trips have been made as practical studies of biologists' problems. Prominent among these were trips to the "Lucky Strike" factory and to a local brewery. The members as a group have made a sincere attempt to awaken a general interest on the part of the student body in the science of biology.

Les Femmes Savantes

Under the leadership of Barbara Eckles, president; Rosalie Clary, vice-president; Bernice Stephenson, secretary; and Dr. Jean G. Wright, sponsor, Les Femmes Savantes has done much to stimulate and increase campus interest in the French people—their customs and language.

In November, Monsieur Freyes, editor of magazine Voici, spoke before the club in French on the general conditions of France at that time in an open meeting. Les Femmes Savantes sponsored a Fashion Show in which members of the club modeled clothes from Thalhimers of Richmond.

Another activity of Les Femmes Savantes was their publication of a Westhampton College Address Book in December which contained the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all the faculty and student body of Westhampton.

The main spring event and the climax of the year was a formal dinner for the Club, held in the Tea Room, at which time the food, menu, and conversation were French.

Ionian Music Club

To promote a wider and better appreciation of music among students at Westhampton, is the aim of the Ionian Music Club, formed in 1938. The club was led this year by Dagmar Jacobson, president and Mrs. F. Flaxington Harker, advisor.

During the year the club has assisted the faculty in sponsoring a series of three concerts for the entertainment of the campus. The first of these was a recital by Miss Barbara Jane Elliott of the Curtis School of Music. On the same program was Mrs. Waller Scott, who sang several English and Scotch folk songs, and was accompanied by a well-known pianist from Richmond, Hilton Rufty. As one of her encores, Miss Elliott was assisted by Mr. Rufty in a duo-piano selection. In December, Philip Whitfield, well known and popular baritone, of Richmond, gave a recital. The last concert featured Miss Florence Lowe, contralto of Richmond, who is an alumna of Westhampton.

The club also aided the administration in its campaign to raise funds for the new piano dedicated in December and placed in the reception room of the Women's Activities Building at Westhampton College.

To promote interest in our Good Neighbor Policy was the intention of El Picaro this year. The main public event of the club's season was their production of a Spanish Fiesta. In surroundings of a Spanish café there were exhibitions of Spanish dances—the South American tango, the jota of old Spain—there were Cuban and Puerto Rican songs by Senor Gil and Miss Marcia Silvette, and there were ballads of old Spain by soloist Gene Morgan.

Immediately before Christmas, the club had a Christmas party where Spain was represented by the nacimiento—the manger scene—comparable to the Anglo-Saxon Christmas tree. Also the Spanish custom of distributing gifts was enacted: while blindfolded, each member of the club was given a chance to punch the gift bag and the one to hit the vulnerable spot got the main gift.

At their regular meetings, El Picaro had several interesting outside speakers who discussed Pan-American relations. The officers who led El Picaro this year were Elsie Vernon Satterwhite, president; Bernice Stephenson, vice-president; Ann Phillips, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Esther Silvia, sponsor.

Eta Sigma Phi

The Beta Gamma Chapter of Eta Sigma Phi at Westhampton was established in May, 1940. To recognize an outstanding interest in the classics is the purpose of this organization.

In December a Christmas tea was held at the home of Dean Keller and Miss Pauline Turnbull to which all members of Eta Sigma Phi were invited. A public tapping ceremony, followed later by an initiation, occurred in February. During the year several sales of home-made candy were sponsored by the club. In May a tea was held for the female students of fourth-year Latin in the high schools of Richmond and vicinity. Following the tea, announcement was made of the recipient of medal for honors in fourth-year Latin, chosen from all students in this course.

The officers for this year of activities were Josephine Fennell, president; May Thayer, vice-president; Helen Hill, corresponding secretary; Rosalie Clary, recording secretary; Miss Marjorie Rivenburg and Miss Pauline Turnbull, sponsors. Eta Sigma Phi closed its first year on the Westhampton campus with great hope for coming students in the field of the classics.

Debate Council

Supplemented by a newly organized class in argumentation, The Debate Council was led this year by Miss Margaret Ross, instructor; Kitty Crawford, president; Ethne Flanagan, vice-president; Jayne Maire, manager; and Constance Powell, secretary-treasurer. Membership to the Council was chosen from those of the class who had participated in at least one intercollegiate debate.

The class opened its season with a panel discussion in Chapel, in which the audience was allowed to ask questions. Following this were the regular debates on the national Pi Kappa Delta question of Resolved: That the nations of the Western Hemisphere should enter into a permanent union. Westhampton teams met colleges including William and Mary, George Washington, Temple, N. Y.U., and American University. This year for the first time Westhampton met Richmond College in a debate. Climaxing the season was a southern tour on which a team met Duke, South Carolina, and colleges in Florida.

National News Council

The National News Council is a comparitively new organization on Westhampton College campus, this being the fourth year of its existence. Composed of girls chosen for their outstanding interest in national affairs, the group meets twice a month to discuss current problems under the leadership of Mary Owen, president; Marian Yancey, vice-president; Martha Lillian Beam, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. Maude Woodfin, sponsor.

At their fall chapel program, the National News Council presented Dr. Ralph C. McDanel of Richmond College, who spoke on Pan American solidarity. Another chapel program in the spring, featuring an outstanding Richmonder and alumnae, completed the organization's public activities for this year. For the first time, in an effort to keep the students up-to-the-minute on national affairs, the most important events of each day were posted on the bulletin board by members of the Council.

The club attended, in a body, the meeting at which Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt spoke on the question of the poll tax, a live issue in state affairs. Because of present world conditions, the National News Council has seen growth and greatly increased interest in its activities this year, and has expectations of widening its scope of work in the future.

Nostrae Filiae

Those girls whose mother, aunt, or grandmother attended the Richmond Female Institute, or the Women's College are members of this organization of Westhampton College. At the beginning of this year on October 2nd, Founders' Day, members of Nostrae Filiae were entertained at a formal dinner given by the alumnae of the club. At this time an illuminated scroll containing their motto "That Our Daughters may be as the Polished Corners of the Temple" was dedicated to Nostrae Filiae and hung in the Alumnae Room in the Woman's Activities Building on the Westhampton campus.

On March 19th, an exhibition of Chinese porcelain was shown for the purpose of raising money for the Nostrae Filiae Scholarship Fund. Mrs. C. Hart Westbrook, of Shanghai, lectured on her collection and was assisted by Louise Wiley, a Westhampton student, who also showed several of her pieces of Chinese porcelain.

In April, the club entertained the alumnae associations of the Richmond Female Institute and Westhampton College and the mothers of members of Nostrae Filiae at a tea.

The officers for this year were Betsy Woodson, president, and Connie Powell, secretary-treasurer.

International Relations Club

Purposing to keep alive on the campus an active interest in contemporary affairs, the International Relations Club meets semi-monthly to discuss the world situation. In a Chapel program, International Relations Club presented a Westhampton alumna, Mrs. Ione S. Wright, who spoke on her doctorate thesis, "Early American Galleons." As a speaker in one of their regular meetings, Dr. Gordon Poteat discussed China today.

In collaboration with the Richmond Professional Institute, International Relations Club conducted a series of radio discussions on current topics. Also the club cooperated with College Government in the establishment of a forum discussion on affairs affecting college students. The club was represented at the International Relations Conference of the South held at Tallahassee, Florida, on March 1 by Elsie Vernon Satterwhite and Martha Lillian Beam. This year's officers were Josephine Fennell, president, Frances Wiley, secretary, and Dr. Susan Lough, sponsor.

Writers' Club

Organized last spring by several girls interested in creative writing, The Writers' Club has this year attained distinction for itself.

Aspiring to stimulate an interest in and the increase of high standard creative writing, each member of the club presented a new original literary effort every month. At their meetings, held semi-monthly on Thursday, one member reads her creative piece and then hears the constructive criticisms of her colleagues.

In their fall Chapel program, Writers' Club presented Miss Caroline S. Lutz, professor of English, and tapped into their number several new members: Anne Addison, Phyllis Anne Coghill, Florence Lafoon, and Louise Wiley.

The club was led this year by Kitty Crawford, president; Mary Arnold, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Betty Burns Nuckols. During the year the members of the club have contributed several excellent literary pieces to the Messenger.

Puppets

The University of Richmond Marionette Repertory Theatre, under the direction of Miss Caroline S. Lutz and Mr. Richard Scammon, had a very full year. The fall show was a series of nine episodes introduced by puppets representing a boy and a girl freshman. These episodes were an insect ballet, a Poe soliloquy, a vocalist with accompanist, ten chorus girls doing a rhumba, and a star ballet, a harpist, a juggling panda, a comic English hunting pantomime, and "A Deb's Double Trouble" shown in the conflict between her good and bad selves. Early in December a new idea was introduced to the campus by the production of "Peter and the Wolfe" done with an adaptation of Chinese shadow figures. During the Christmas season, they gave a rod and hand show at Kilbourne Farm. The spring show saw the presentation of "The Taming of the Shrew" done with cat-like puppets, a negro soliloquy, and an Indian war dance of five figures. At the close of their season they had the traditional May Day show of "Punch and Judy" and also a production of "The Pear Tree."

University Players

Grease paint, excitement, fellowship, stage paint all over arms and legs, and that first thrilling rise of the curtain—all this sums up to the University Players. We opened our season with Sherwood's Petrified Forest. In the cast were Carolyn Gary, Jack Kervan, Tommy Warriner and Billy Snow, all old hands on the Players stage. The next show was a two one-act bill "Daniel Webster and the Devil" and "The Land of Heart's Desire." Both of these were the exception of our stand-by Sam Casale and George Sadler. In the spring the Players presented Coffee and Cowen's drama "Family Portrait." There was a large cast of seasoned actors but the steal of the show was little J. Vaughn Gary, Jr., in the part of Daniel. The Greek theater show will be a modern comedy and we feel by producing this we will be breaking a thread-bare and irksome tradition.

Well, there you have the Players for 1940-41 as the campus sees us. But there is much that goes on backstage that only those of us who are members know—take-offs on the shows done in rocous good humor by Sternburg, Casale, Snow, Booth and Company, the food (cheese, pickles, salami, and cokes), "Prof" and his ever ready wit and excellent directing.

Nevertheless, we have a very serious aim in trying to promote the drama on the campus. We try to bring a message to the school through our productions and we find that there is real development of personality to be gained in working with a group such as the Players.

Gathering cohorts from every class and course, the University of Richmond Radio Guild has formed a smooth working unit that offers worth while instruction and experience in the art of broadcasting and control work.

Advancing steadily, the Guilders are expanding their scope and now boast of regular weekly broadcasts, which are aired over station WRNL in the city of Richmond. A typical program of this type invades the airlanes after an introduction something like this: "It's two-thirty Tuesday afternoon and time for another University of Richmond program brought to you from the studio in Cannon Memorial Chapel by the remote control facilities of WRNL." Thus, does the Radio Guild advance the fame of the University.

Camera Club

The camera fiends of the campus, known in collegiate circles as the University of Richmond Camera Club, have just completed another successful year of advancement and growth, with much evidence of increased interest in pictorial art.

In an effort to encourage other students, the Camera Club sponsored a photography contest for the entire university in conjunction with Pi Delta Epsilon.

In their program of developing interest on both sides of the lake, the Monday meetings were held alternately on the Richmond and Westhampton campuses. Dr. R. F. Smart, faculty adviser of the Camera Club, has added greatly to the meetings with his constructive and interesting speeches.

Interfraternity Council

Back in the dark ages of 1914 the Greek letter fraternities realized their need for a unifying and coöperative association to aid them in carrying out the many activities with which the Greeks were concerned. In their first faint mutterings were found the beginning of the present group which is designated as the Interfraternity Council of the University of Richmond.

This council today is made up of two representatives from each of the eleven social fraternities, and is headed by Dr. Herman P. Thomas, of the faculty.

Consideration of the numerous problems arising in fraternity life and suggestions for better methods and solutions are the important functions of this group.

Chief among the problems discussed was the much debated subject of delayed rushing. All aspects of fraternity rushing and pledging were studied and rules of conduct and action were set up and enforced. Intramural athletics were handled with a great deal of success and spirited competition. Many other matters pertinent to the Greeks are studied and managed by the Interfraternity Council.

Most enjoyable of all the Council's sponsored activities are the Openings, Mid-Winters, and Finals, dance sets, which are enthusiastically received by the entire student body.

In addition the council presents two awards yearly, a scholarship cup and an athletic trophy, to the most outstanding fraternity in those fields.

The National Interfraternity Council meeting in New York was attended by two Spider representatives. Professor Fred Caylor, of the faculty, and John Locke, were sent by the local council.

During the past year John Locke was chairman of the Dance Committee, while William H. Jones headed the group which selected the orchestras for the three sets of dances. The finances were taken care of by Robert Keil. Richard Klaffky was chairman of the Publicity Committee and Aylett Goode had the job of putting up the decorations.

Kappa Alpha

For seventy-one years Kappa Alpha has been a contributing factor to the social life of the campus. This year it got another good start by pledging fourteen promising men.

After the usual excitement of rush season had passed such things as "weenie roasts," smokers, informal dances, cabin parties, and the inter-campus athletic contests with the chapter at Randolph-Macon College kept the K. A's busy. On January the nineteenth the chapter celebrated with the Lee Ball in honor of its founder and spiritual leader. All of these events were great but the outstanding social function was the Spring Formal at the John Marshall Hotel, with a cocktail party preceding and an informal party the next night at the Chesterfield Club. Then came the annual house party at Virginia Beach as the climax to the social calendar of the year.

Led by their president, Simpson Williams, the K. A's have been active in all campus organizations. Simpson was honored with membership in Omicron Delta Kappa and Pi Delta Epsilon, was Vice-President of Student Government, Secretary of the Honor Council, and a member of the Interfraternity Council.

Bull.

On the publications K. A's predominated on the business staffs with Bill Parkerson as Business Manager of the Collegian, and Simpson Williams as Business Manager of the Messenger and the Spider Handbook. Bobby Black was the Assistant Business Manager of the three publications, and Charlie Ferneyhough helped as Manager of Accounts for the Collegian.

In politics steady Vernon Lankford came through with flying colors as the new Treasurer of Student Government and Charlie Ferneyhough served as Vice-President of the Senior Class.

This has been a successful year and under the efficient guidance of Vernon Lankford as President the chapter looks forward to another very prosperous year.

I'll bet . . . .

Phi Kappa Sigma

The Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity was founded on October 19, 1850 at the University of Pennsylvania. Phi Chapter at Richmond College was chartered on the fifteenth of January, 1873, thus making the second oldest social fraternity on our campus.

In athletics the chapter was represented by Robert Keil and Courtney Bowen who won major letters in football. Keil also starred on the track team. James Turkington was manager of football; Douglas Laird was junior manager; Richard Owen was a sophomore manager.

The Delegate from Phi.

Gordon Andrews was Head Cheerleader; Mark Willing and Allen Davis, assistant cheerleaders. Bowen represented the fraternity on the basketball team, and Hunter Leake was a member of the baseball squad.

In addition to this, many Phi Kaps held responsible posts in campus organizations. James Turkington was president of Omicron Delta Kappa; Mark Willing was president of the Junior Class; and Richard Owen served as secretary of the Sophomore Class and as chairman of the annual Freshman-Sophomore Dance. Robert Keil was the chairman of the Honor Council and Keil, Willing, and Turkington were members of Omicron Delta Kappa. Keil was honored by Phi Beta Kappa.

Checkmate.

The Chapter's social program consisted, this year, of two formal dances in addition to smaller informal functions. The Fall Formal was held in the fraternity house, while the Spring function, a dinner dance, was held at the Hermitage Country Club.

In addition to its other social events, Phi Kappa Sigma was proud and delighted to act as hosts to the fraternity's Grand Chapter, when it convened in Richmond this year for the fourth time. The convention took place during the Christmas Holidays, and was climaxed by a gala New Year's Ball.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, largest social Greek brotherhood in this country, established the Virginia Tau Chapter at the University of Richmond in 1884.

The members of this chapter believe, upon reviewing the activities of this year, that it has been most successful. Many dances and parties of one sort or another were given this year with the climax coming in March, the annual Founder's Day Banquet and Ball, at which time over three hundred people, including members of SAE, its alumni, and friends were present.

Fraternal kibitzing.

A few days before the Christmas holidays began, a party was given for approximately twenty orphan children. Each child was given a big dinner, a Christmas gift, and was later taken to a theatre. This event has become an annual affair and is looked forward to by all the members.

Another big social event was the annual house party at the beach during the week-end of commencement.

At the beginning of the year SAE was awarded the intramural athletic trophy. Recognition was also given for having received fourth place scholastically.

The Eminent Archon steps out.

The members and pledges took part in nearly every organization and society on the campus. Ashley DeShazor was president of Alpha Mu Omicron; Nathanael Habel, president of the Mu Sigma Rho Literary Society; Frank Connor, Manager of the Debating Team; John Fitzgerald, Vice-President of the Sophomore Class; and Bob Phillips, elected Senator-at-Large in this spring's elections. The chapter is well represented in honorary societies, campus publications, the Radio Guild, literary societies, the debating team, the Glee Club, the Choir, the Forensic Council, the University Band, the Ministerial Association, and various sports.

Ashley DeShazor and Chuck Welton were eminent archons for the first and second semesters respectively.

Phi Gamma Delta

Phi Gamma Delta's Rho Chi Chapter has just completed its 51st year on the campus of the University of Richmond. The boys from the house across "the gully" on Towano Road have again carried their name into every phase of school life and have won for it distinction, for the Phi Gams are a varied bunch who range all the way from four new Phi Beta Kappas to four varsity captains.

Ed Adams was president of the fraternity, sports editor of The Collegian, and manager of the basketball team. He is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, and Pi Delta Epsilon.

Happy New Year!

Other Fijis are crowding for mention. "Afie" Jones of football, basketball, track, intramural softball, and intramural bowling fame is one. "Nose" Humbert is also a brilliant athlete, to say nothing of football co-captain-elect Andy Froncezk. Mac Pitt, Jr., who is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa and basketball captain-elect, has been elected president of the Student Government for next year.

Hell Week(?)

Individuals alone don't make a fraternity. Phi Gam spirit was sky high all the way. Intramurals brought Fiji victories in football, basketball, and a third in volleyball. The boys are fighting to regain the "big cup" which they lost last year.

Social functions were not neglected. Again the Annual Fancy Dress Ball was a late spring success in the Millhiser. All during the scholastic year other social events such as cabin parties and suppers were numerous. The year was completed by a house party just before finals.

And now the year has flown swiftly and for many "college life's a tale that's told." Phi Gamma Delta cannot help but miss her seniors. The men who are left behind are again and forever pledged to blaze a successful and brilliant trail for Phi Gamma Delta through the sky of 1941 and 1942.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Bound together in a common cause, with a comradeship cemented by the vigors of war, six Confederate soldiers united in a secret brotherhood to perpetuate their friendship. This fraternal organization, founded at the University of Virginia, March 1, 1868, was named Pi Kappa Alpha.

The local chapter, Omicron, was first chartered at the University of Richmond on October

Pikas Gymnastics.

23, 1891. However, several of the chapter members did not return to college the following year, consequently, the charter was withdrawn, but was reëstablished in 1901.

The Pika social calendar had several outstanding events among its various functions. First event of the season was the State Ball, held at the John Marshall Hotel, Richmond, Virginia, on Thanksgiving week-end. Other outstanding ones were the Founders Day celebration on March 1, and Pikas' House Party held at the close of the spring semester.

In athletics, the Pikas were well represented. William Fitzhugh and Joe Mack, members of the Varsity football squad, held down the positions of center and blocking back respectively. Earl Fox and Arthur Wagner were sprinters and Joe Mack was also catcher on Coach Mac Pitt's baseball team.

In Campus affairs, the Pikas were led by their Vice-President Earl Fox, who was president of the Senior Class. William Fitzhugh, their president, served as Athletic Representative. He also was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa, while Earl Fox was elected to Beta Beta Beta and Rho Eta Sigma. Pledge Lawrence Cash was elected Secretary of the Freshman Class.

Kappa Sigma

The Kappa Sigma fraternity was founded at the University of Virginia by five men who were bonded together by a strong and lasting friendship. It was on December 10, 1869 that these five comrades met at 46 East Lawn and cemented their friendship by founding the fraternity. Beta Beta Chapter was instituted at the University of Richmond on March 5, 1901.

During the past year, the fraternity has been very ably led by Jack Kervan and Joe Wiggins, presidents for the fall and spring terms respectively.

The men of Kappa Sigma were very well represented on the campus in extracurricular activities. Ed Arendall was editor of the Collegian, and was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa, Tau Kappa Alpha, and Pi Delta Epsilon. Warren Pace was senator for the Sophomore Class and Gordon ReMine was a senator-at-large. Bert Milling, Co-captain elect of the Spider football team, was also made student athletic representative. Dick Thistlethwaite and Hugh Crisman played on the varsity basketball team and John

"Look pretty, boys."

Madigan played freshman basketball. Jim Hubbard represented the fraternity on the crew, and Clint Moore was one of the leading pole vaulters in the South.

Numerous house dances were held and as usual the crowning achievement of the social calendar was our annual barn dance, which each year seems to be "better than ever." The annual Spring Formal was given at the Country Club of Virginia.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

The Sigma Phi Epsilon heart made its first appearance in the "Greek" world in September, 1901, at Richmond College, then located at Lombardy and Grace streets in the city. Virginia Alpha, the local chapter, is the "mother chapter" of S.P.E., for it was the results of the efforts of six men at the old Richmond College that this fraternity developed from a Saturday Night club, organized by the six men in order to carry on their ideals and aims. Later in the year this group petitioned the faculty for permission to become a fraternity and November of the same year saw the dreams and desires of the group fulfilled. In 1902 the fraternity received its charter from the State of Virginia.

Rush Dance.

Sigma Phi Epsilon has attained high esteem upon the Richmond College Campus. Through the efforts of Thomas Benton, Rushing Chairman, eleven new men were pledged.

The social events of the year include smokers, cabin parties, and a house party at the end of school in June. There is also a house party at the beginning of school in September. Of all these however, the outstanding social function is the S.P.E. Spring Formal Dance, held this year on May 10.

"Hip ho, Brother Jones!"

Virginia Alpha is well represented in campus life. Edgar C. Garber, Jr., served as President of Student Government, 1940-41. He is also a member of Omicron Delta Kappa and of Beta Beta Beta. Ralph Kinsey, Vice-President of the Chapter, is a member of the Honor Council and of Omicron Delta Kappa. Edward Eppes was elected Treasurer of the Freshman Class.

With our part in athletics, scholarship, and campus life, we hope we have proven ourselves worthy of those six Richmond College men who began our fraternity in 1901 and we look forward to many more years as an integral part of the College System.

Theta Chi

Challenged by its motto: "Alma Mater First and Theta Chi for Alma Mater," which has inspired Omicron chapter to twenty-six years of campus leadership, Theta Chi brothers entered into every phase of college life.

The twenty pledges early caught the competitive Spirit of Theta Chi, and in the annual Rat Parade their Sadie Hawkins Day stunt won first prize. One of their number, George Oliver, was elected president of the Freshman Class.

President John Locke set an example for campus leadership as he arranged the dances at the University. He also acted as vice-chairman of the Honor Council.

6425 Roselawn Road.

In the spring, Theta Chi hit the jackpot at Honors Convocation, placing two men in each of the three honorary societies—Omicron Delta Kappa, Pi Delta Epsilon, and Tau Kappa Alpha. Tommy Warriner was tapped into all three societies. He was co-managing editor of the Collegian with Robert Cotton, already TKA, who was taken into ODK and PDE. Dortch Oldham, who was tapped for TKA, filled a community need when he originated the "Grocery Ball" for the benefit of the Christmas Mother.

Etheridge and loving cups.

Not only was Theta Chi "potent" in interfrat sports, but Omicron men were also standouts in school sports. Marshall Phillips captained the cross country team while Jack Vaughn, Max Walker, and Courtney Lawler starred in frosh sports.

Theta Chi met the changing seasons with varying socials put on in coöperation with the Mothers Club. As a climax, on April 4-5 delegates from other chapters attended the Mason-Dixon Jubilee during which Omicron played host to the University at its Spring Formal.

To foster better relations with Westhampton, the Theta Chi "Tin-Fleet" (five jallopies) daily dropped a load of bums on the other side of the lake. The girls retaliated, and nineteen Theta Chis met at one Westhampton Yule dance.

Lambda Chi Alpha

One of the youngest national fraternities, Lambda Chi Alpha, has expanded since its founding at Boston University in 1909 into an international fraternity and is now the third largest national fraternity with chapters in the leading colleges and universities. The local chapter, formerly Sigma Delta Chi, was chartered by Lambda Chi Alpha on May 8, 1918, and since that time has been a worthy campus organization.

This year Lambda Chi has been well represented in all phases of campus activities. In the political field Bruce Kellison has capably served as President of the Sophomore Class. Lambda Chi's Frank Baker, Joe Amrhein, and John Griffin did much to lessen the worries of Coach Thistlethwaite in varsity football, and John Kellison and John Amrhein proved themselves to be valuable members of the Spider Crew. Al Philpott won his letter in baseball and John Griffin tossed the weights for the track team of which Stuart Covey served as Sophomore Manager. Ed Reid won his numerals on the Freshman squad and helped the Yearlings also as a baseball pitcher.

Woofle Ball

Studious, huh?

Lambda Chi was also prominent in intramurals and came out in the basketball finals, and won the annual bridge tournament.

Neither was the social life of the chapter neglected for with a big dance at the Hermitage Country Club this phase of their year's program began. Then semi-monthly outings kept the members entertained until the coming of the Spring Formal, the highlight of the year. And for the proper ending of a successful session Lambda Chi had a wonderful house party.

Under the leadership of Sam Moody the Alpha Chi Chapter has been collaborating with the other state chapters to form a state conclave as another step toward inter-college fraternalism, and Emmett Hubbard, who succeeds Moody as president, will carry on the work.

Phi Delta Theta

Virginia Delta Chapter of Phi Delta Theta came to the University of Richmond campus in 1875. In 1895, when the University appeared incapable of going through a period of hardship, the chapter voluntarily gave up its charter with the expectation of receiving it again some day. In the fall of 1938, Phi Delta Omega, a local fraternity of long standing, petitioned Phi Delta Theta and the charter was restored in February, Jitterbugging à la Nolan.

1939. Charles Watkins served as president for the first semester of this year and Clarence Major succeeded him.

Among the outstanding men on the campus was Ned Butcher, better known to his frat brothers as "Butch" or "Benny." Ned won his third letter award in football as a triple-threat backfield ace and was Captain of the 1941 Varsity Baseball team.

Other athletically inclined men were "Giggy"

Dangerous business, brother.

Woodard and Harry Fainter, members of the Varsity Baseball squad, Phikeias "Whitey" Hall and "Stoop" Sisk, members of the freshman football team, and Hall in track. "Smooch" Major was a member of the varsity basketball squad. Major and Harold Owens were treasurers of Junior and Senior classes respectively. Major was also elected Senator-at-Large in this Spring's Student Government elections.

The Phi Delts enjoyed larger room facilities this year, giving the boys many hours of recreation, playing ping-pong or shooting pool on the new table. Many social functions were enjoyed throughout the year. On March 29, Virginia Delta held its annual Founder's Day Banquet at the John Marshall Hotel, followed by the Spring formal dance. In June, the year was concluded with a week-end cabin party on the Rappahannock River.

Phi Alpha

Phi Alpha began with five young students who wished to be bound together for life in order to perpetuate their friendship. These five young men founded Phi Alpha on October 14, 1914 at George Washington University. The local chapter, Rho, was installed on the Richmond College campus February 6, 1925.

Since its founding the Interfraternity Scholarship Cup that is awarded annually, has made its way to the Phi Alpha room six times, two cups have become permanent possessions of the fraternity and one leg is held on the new cup.

their share in Phi Alpha's program. On February 21, the annual Rho Tau dance was held. This affair is considered by many as the outstanding affair of the year.

"Win or lose," Rho chapter's intramural athletic teams are always out fighting and ready to give a good account of themselves against all competition.

Although small in number, the men of Phi Alpha have distinguished themselves in campus affairs. Herman Rockoff and Martin Markowitz were duly honored by Phi Beta Kappa and Omicron Delta Kappa respectively, and Norman Brown was elected to Pi Delta Epsilon. Martin Markowitz has taken an active part in extra-curricular activities, having held the positions of Secretary in the Student Government, president of the Biology Club and of Beta Beta Beta, and chairman of the interfraternity interrelations committee. Norman Brown was Business Manager of the Web and a dean's list man. Rockoff is a member of the Chemistry Club and of Beta Beta Beta.

Brother Chemists.

Among the newer members there are several to whom Phi Alpha looks as its future leaders: Alvin Jacobs, Vice-President of the Freshman Class; Alexander "Bay" Jacobs, a member of the Varsity football and basket ball teams; Stan Watts, a member of the Varsity basket ball team and of the Web Staff; Joe Michaelson, a member of the Web Staff and of the newly organized Modern Language Club.

Ministerial Association

Urged on by their theme, "For His name's sake," the men of the Ministerial Association have once again proved their ability to serve the campus and the community with the highest in Christian leadership.

They have created the first chapter of the Baptist Student Union at Richmond College, have served weekly throughout the past year at the Home for Incurables, and have fostered better relationships among the ministerial students of the campus.

The year of 1940-41 has been one of the most active in the Association's history. Led by President Thomas Pugh, monthly meetings have been held through the school year, and many prominent Christians have spoken at these gatherings. The programs for the year were planned to bring out the things that are vital in the life of the young minister. Dr. Kyle M. Yates of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky was the first speaker and he brought a very inspirational message. In February the trend of thought was turned to the more technical side of the preacher's work and Plunkett Martin of the Barton Heights Church talked about "When the Church Sings." Through this series of lectures the boys received much practical advice and a clearer idea of just what to do in their future work.

The Second Annual Banquet was held in April, when the ministerial students were the guests of the Baptist Ministerial Union of Richmond. The following Sunday evening every student minister on the campus led worship services in churches all over Richmond. Not only did the student benefit greatly by the experience, but also these efforts did much to strengthen the ties between the Richmond churches and the ministerial students.

The officers who have so willingly worked with Mr. Pugh are Winfred Elder, Vice-President; Ray Baker, Secretary; Paul Harrell, Treasurer, and Paul Hepler, Chorister.

Omicron Delta Kappa

In 1914 there was founded at Washington and Lee University an honorary leadership fraternity which was called Omicron Delta Kappa. Epsilon circle was chartered at Richmond College in 1921.

The purpose of Omicron Delta Kappa is three fold: first, to recognize men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in collegiate activities, second, to bring together the most representative men in all phases of campus life, third, to bring together the members of the faculty and student body on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

In the election of its members, Omicron Delta Kappa seeks men who have attained prominence in one or excellence in two of five major fields of endeavor: scholarship, leadership in social and religious life, athletics, publications and forensics, dramatics and other cultural activities. All candidates must have a scholastic average of "C" or better.

Again O. D. K. sponsored the campaign on the campus for the proposed Student Activities Building. This year the major event in the drive was the Jamboree in April which, given in the Millhiser Gymnasium, was a combination of a carnival and a barn dance and such things as all kinds of games of chance as well as ice cream, candy and soft drinks were had in the attempt to snatch every possible cent for the building fund.

The outstanding social event for Epsilon Circle was a cabin party at Camp Richmond in the spring. Each man carried a date and enjoyed the supper cooked by the new members.

Mortar Board

Mortar Board, national honorary fraternity for senior women, granted a charter to the chapter at Westhampton College on June 26, 1930; Miss Isabell Harris was chosen sponsor of the group. Since that time, Mortar Board has stressed the qualities of leadership, scholarship, and service, among the students of Westhampton, embodied in this year's aims: to work for a constructive loyalty and personal responsibility; to maintain a high standard of appreciation; to develop better attitudes; and to foster the honor system.

The program opened in Orientation Week, when Mortar Board gave parties for the freshmen and transfers to welcome them to the student body. The members also acted as senior advisors to the freshmen and sponsored homecoming in November. Mortar Board contributed to the social life of the year with two co-eds, and in the spring with a tea in honor of the faculty, Phi Beta Kappa initiates and intermediate honors students.

Mortar Board sponsored a series of four vocational chapels in the spring, the speakers scheduled for these programs being women who have attained recognition in their own vocations. Those who spoke were: Edith Lindeman, journalist; Catherine Henna, director of Social Service of W.P.A. in Virginia; Mrs. Arthur E. Sanders of Girl Scouts; and several members of the senior class. Stressing the importance of leadership, Mortar Board held after the spring elections, its annual school for officers, who received training in the qualities of leadership. As is customary in the spring, Mortar Board also sponsored a series of Eugenics Lectures for the Seniors, during which time Dr. Emily Gardner and Mrs. Robert Erhman were the lecturers.

Tappings for the new members were held on March 10, and the year ended with the presentation of the Mortar Board Cup, given each year to the class which best lives up to the qualities established: (a) growth within the class shown by class spirit and coöperation; (b) contribution to the college evidenced by participation in athletics, elections, attendance at school contests and scholarship.

Pi Delta Epsilon

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, was founded at Syracuse University in 1909 with the express purpose of recognizing students who had made outstanding achievements in the field of journalism. In this, its thirty-first year of existence, there are thirty-three chapters throughout the United States.

The University of Richmond chapter was chartered on November 26, 1926, but Westhampton College students were not admitted until 1937 when a change in the constitution opened the organization to women.

Last spring the local chapter assisted in installing a chapter at the University of Virginia. Another chapter was inducted at Randolph-Macon Men's College last fall, making five chapters in Virginia, others being at Hampden-Sydney and Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Qualifications for membership in Pi Delta Epsilon include at least two years' work on one or more campus publications, with the student's having attained a responsible position on at least one publication. The student shall also exhibit a sincere and unselfish interest in improving campus journalism.

Among the activities of the chapter this year was the institution of a photographic contest in hope of encouraging amateur photographers on the campus. The idea was sponsored jointly by the Camera Club and Pi Delta Epsilon, and the prize-winning pictures were published in a special section of the annual.

The chapter also adopted a new set of by-laws. PDE set, however, as its major accomplishment the securing of a semester hour's credit for students working on the various publications.

Officers of the local chapter were Joseph Wornom, Jr., President; Jeannette Evans, Vice-President; Dr. Edward Peple, Secretary-Treasurer.

Tau Kappa Alpha

RICHMOND COLLEGE CHAPTER

Tau Kappa Alpha, national debating and forensic fraternity, was founded at Indianapolis, Indiana, on May 13, 1908. The chapter at Richmond College was established in 1917.

The purpose of Tau Kappa Alpha is to bring about an increased awareness of the values and necessity of being a capable speaker. The fraternity strives to honor those men on the campus who have been outstanding in forensic activities. Those who show this type of ability as evidenced by participation in intercollegiate debates and other contests of like nature are eligible.

In the late fall the fraternity sponsored a chapel program with Straughan Lowe Gettier, president of the group, presiding. A debate on the subject "The Extended Rushing Season," was presented with Dortch Oldham and John Decker upholding the affirmative and George Ross and Ed Arendall voicing the negative views.

WESTHAMPTON COLLEGE CHAPTER

In 1931 a Westhampton College chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha was organized. Recognizing forensic attainment, and encouraging a desire for improvement in public speaking, this organization has taken an increasingly prominent place on the campus.

This year, under the leadership of Ethne Flanagan, the Westhampton chapter sponsored a panel discussion in chapel on the much-discussed topic of the year—America's Aid to Britain—which aroused great interest among the more politically-minded Westhamptonites. Another chapel program in the spring, featuring a panel discussion of "American College Girl—Isolationist or World Citizen?" which was participated in by the Debate Council, completed a rather full year of activity.

At the annual tapping ceremony held in the chapel, when the student body was impressed with a sense of Tau Kappa Alpha's high ideals, new members were tapped into the organization, who will carry on the work next year.

Alpha Mu Omicron

Alpha Mu Omicron was organized by a group of students majoring in the Social Sciences with the purpose of recognizing those men who have achieved a high scholastic rating in that field. A second aim of this honorary fraternity is to stimulate a greater interest in these fields of study among the students.

In furthering this purpose, the society encourages outside work among its members. That is, various members at each meeting report on topics in which they are personally interested and on which they have spent a great deal of time in research. Lively discussions follow each report and the entire organization participates.

Many noted speakers are brought to the campus every year by Alpha Mu Omicron. Their subjects are of vital interest to the student body and are always well received. This policy, having met with great success in the past, was followed even more energetically this term.

At the regular meetings they have also discussed social problems in the current affairs of the city, the state, the nation and even the world. These discussions have been responsible for a keener sense of the nearness of such problems even to college students.

Prominent among the speakers brought out to the University of Richmond this term by the society was Dr. Roland Egger, Director of the Virginia State Budget. Dr. Egger made an enlightening address and gave the group an insight into the workings of state finances.

Led by President Ashley DeShazor, the Alpha Mu Omicron group has had a progressive, well-arranged year of activity. DeShazor was aided by Chastine Jones as Vice-President and Tom Fattaruso as Secretary and Treasurer.

Harlequin Club

Social harmony and better relations between the femmes of Westhampton and the fellows of Richmond College is the primary purpose of the Harlequin Club. This purpose is carried out through the medium of social affairs given on several occasions throughout the school year. These dances are usually formal, and all girls present must hail to Westhampton as their Alma Mater. All dances are attended by members of the faculties from the opposing sides of the lake, who act as capable chaperons.

Each member, of which there are thirty-three men from each of ten of the social fraternities on the campus—is given one stag bid to each function sponsored by the club. This bid is to be given to a member of the man's own social fraternity so that only these Greek-letter men and the club members are allowed to attend the event.

A new type of social feature for the club was innovated with an informal intermission party at the Junior Prom. Held at the Phi Gamma Delta House, the party met with such success that other affairs of like nature were held at other dances. The popularity that was accorded to them warrants other ones in the future.

In addition to its other activities, the club also sponsored an interfraternity bridge tournament. Originated by the Harlequin Club, the tournament has developed into an annual affair. This year it was won by the team of John Griffin and Emmett Hubbard representing Lambda Chi Alpha who scored over the other finalists, Gibson Hooten and Alvin Beale of Phi Gamma Delta, to win the trophy.

The club was ably led through the year just past by President John Locke. The work that he and the entire membership of the club did stands as a tribute to the men themselves. Judging from the work that has been done in the past and by the plans that are being made for the future, it is with expectation that the club faces the future.

May Day, 1940

May Day, 1940. On this day the beauty and dignity of the Senior Class of Westhampton College was recognized by the crowning of the Queen, Kitty Wicker, who was attended by her maid of honor, Dot Roberts, and her court composed of Mildred Gustafson, Bella Hertzberg, Elizabeth Johnson, and Maude Smith. Although the day was one of heavy clouds and bitter cold winds, the Queen and her court, accompanied by the remainder of the Senior Class, all clad in flowing pastel gowns, descended to the Greek theatre to witness their presentation of a well-known Greek drama. This year, being the one year in four when there is an elaborate May Day, the Senior Class presented "Iphegenia in Tauris" the Greek tragedy by Euripides. Despite the chill of the weather an admirable performance was given by the cast headed by Mrs. Betty Burns Nuckols as Iphegenia. The Greek chorus was led and directed in its dancing by Betty Carper and was aided in its singing by the Glee Club under the direction of Mrs. F. F. Harker.

As was the custom, that evening saw the Freshman Class, singing and with their lanterns alight, ascend the hill from the lake and form a "W" on the steps of the Greek theatre—a very lovely sight to behold. From there they went to the court to serenade the May Queen under her window with their original song to her beauty. The day, one so full of activity and excitement, was concluded with the Co-ed given by the Sophomores in honor of their "big sisters," the Seniors.

Is the Seed of Success in You?

That is the question that every man faces as the time draws near for him to enter the business world. If you are able to save money, you can succeed; if not you will fail! You may not think so, but you will lose as sure as fate, for the seed of success is not in you. Man has one fundamental weakness. His inability to hang on to his material possessions. Life insurance is the only plan which is certain to offset this fundamental weakness. It not only assists him to save his money but guarantees to him the safest investment and the most secure protection.
